Johnson Sends Twin Message To Congress

Asks Health Study, Creation Of Free TV Corporation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Congress today he wants the government to seek ways to lower health costs.

He also called for action to promote the expansion of noncommercial television and radio, including especially education programs.

In a special message on education and health, Johnson announced that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will hold a national conference on medical costs "to discuss how we can lower the costs of medical services without impairing the quality."

BROADCAST PLAN

The Persident also recommended that Congress create a Corporation for Public Television that would use both public and private funds to support noncommercial broadcasting, both via television and radio.

Pickingup an idea that has been adovated by the Ford Foundation, which has urged establishment of such a corporation, Johnson recommended a study of "the practicality and the economic advantages of using communication satellites to establish an educational televisionand radio network."

COSTS CITED

The President noted that average hospital costs have more than tripled since 1950 and that other medical expenses have risen sharply.

For that reason, he said, he wants a national conference to bring together leaders of the medical community and members of the public to try to find ways to reverse the upward trend.

In addition, Johnson said, the new National Center for Health Services Research and Development will concentrate first on seeking "new ways to improve the use of professional and auxiliary workers—a key factor in reducing hospital costs."

TV TO 'INSPIRE'

As for noncommercial television, the President said this holds out a potential promise of bringing to its audience "the excitement of excellence in every field." He said it "will not only instruct, but inspire and uplift our people."

Recommending enactment of a public television act of 1967, Johnson said such legislation should create the proposed Corporation for Public Television and provide it with $9 million of first-year funds.

He said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will begin experiments on the requirements for a satellite network.

However, he said any detailed plans for satellite communications in this field "requires the most detailed and comprehensive study by the executive branch and the Congress." He said he expects congressional committees to hold hearings on "these complex issues of public policy."

$3 Million Bond Vote In Mill Valley June 13

School Board Vetos Requests For Delay

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Mill Valley School District trustees voted unanimously last night to hold an election June 13 on a bond measure of more than $3 million.

Amount of the bond issue will be set before mid-April, it will be for the district's maximum projected bonding capacity in five years, trustees agreed.

The bonds would be used to finance a "middle school" for 1,200 sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils in Project 17 on Camino Alto, and to improve existing schools.

The decision to go ahead on a June bond election was made over strong arguments by the district architects for a fall election to give them time to complete preliminary plans to present to voters. Cost of their preliminary work, however, was estimated at $35,000. Trustees agreed this was more than the district can afford.

DEADLINE NEAR

Pressing for a June election, Supt. G. R. McConnell advised trustees that deadlnne to set a June election was next week.

Delay was urged by Mayor Albert E. White. In a letter to the board, Dr. White said the preliminary land use plan for the project, which includes joint development with the city of recreation facilities, "should be completed and adopted before the election date is set." The plan is to include suggested school district and city for land purchase and improvements.

SPACE ISSUE

"The central issue is whether there is enough land there," said Robert Royston, of Royston, Hanamoto, Mayes and Beck, the firm doing the master plan for the "middle school" site. "What if, for example, soeone wants to keep the riding ring?" he asked, "That's a bomb in itself. It's a pretty tight space."

"Your plan might not fit," added his partner, Eldon Beck. "We never know what we're going to find, particularly in mud." Plans for a similar size school in Santa Barbara, he noted, required 40 acres, the Camino Alto site has about 35 acres.

OTHER SITE

"I don't know of another piece of land that would do," Royston said. Trustees, however, have indicated they will consider building the "middle school" at the Alto-Edna Maguire school site if the Camino Alto site proves unbuildable.

Royston, who opposed a June election when he was hired last month, said fill on the site "never was adequate."

Royston asked for six months to prepare a master plan, but reluctantly agreed to have some preliminary plans ready in about two months. Trustees authorized McConnell to have soil borings made to provide Royston with data he will need. Herbert T. Lawton of the architectural firm of Campbell and Wong, which is to design the school, estimated 15 to 20 borings would be necessary.

Cost of the borings should be part of the site planning cost to be shared by the city, trustees agreed. The city has delayed signing a contract with Royston pending estimates by City

Time-Life Founder Henry Luce Dies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Henry Luce, head of the Time-Life-Fortune publishing empire, died at 4 a.m. PST today at St. Joseph's Hospital where he was admitted yesterday after suffering a coronary occlusion. He was 68.

Luce became ill late yesterday at his winter home in the exclusive Biltmore Estates of suburban Phoenix.

His wife, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former ambassador to Italy, was in Phoenix with him when he fell ill.

Luce was one of the most influential figures in 20th century journalism and one of the most controversial. He and Yale classmate Briton Hadden conceived the idea of a news magazine and began publishing Time on a borrowed $86,000 shoestring in 1923 for 12,000 original subscribers. The magazine's current worldwide circulation is 4.4 million.

Fortune magazine followed in 1930, the March of Time went on radio in 1931, Architectural Forum was purchased in 1932, and the March of Time moved into movie theaters in 1935. Life magazine, one of Luce's major ventures, was an overnight success when it was published io 1936. Luce later acquired House and Home and launched another successful weekly, Sports Illustrated in 1954.

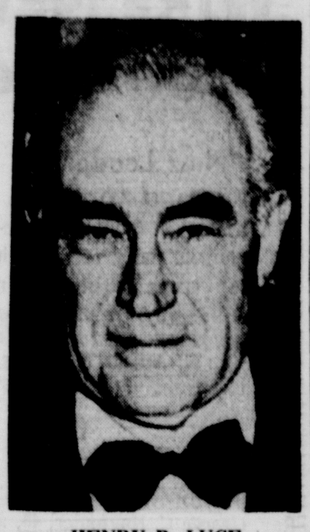
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Luce was editor-in-chief of his magazines until 1964 when he relinquished some of his power and took the title of editorial chairman. His elder son, Henry Luce III, is vice president of three of the Luce publications. Young Luce and his brother, Peter, are Luce's children by his first wife, Mrs. Lila Hotz Tyng.

Henry Robinson Luce was born April 3, 1898 in Shantung Province of China where his father and mother were Presbyterian missionaries. He did not come to the United States until he was 14.

He served as a second lieutenant in the Army in World War I and was graduated from Yale with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1920. He was voted "the most brilliant" in his class and Hadden, who was to become his partner, was voted "the most likely to succeed."

Time's impish way with the English language was Hadden's contribution and has stayed with the magazine despite criticism from purists.



HENRY R. LUCE
Publishing mogul dies

Hadden died in 1929 while the partners were preparing to bring out Fortune, a magazine on the world of business which sold for an unprecedented $1 a copy.

SEVERE MAN

Luce, a severe and rather humorless man, worked harder than most of his executives and could be found at his desk from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. He always left for home with an armful of work. In his leisure time he hobnobbed with the great of the worlds of theater, art, journalism and politics.

Even in this pinnacle of success, Luce was not immune to snipers who claimed his publications — particularly Time — were slanted to fit their publisher's views on everything from politics to religion.

But Lucerarely noticed his critics and never attempted to disguise the strong drives that had shaped his life. From his missionary parents he developed an abiding and active interest in education and religious affairs.

IN 'CHINA LOBBY'

He was active in the "China Lobby" which supported Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

His 1923 marriage to his first wife ended in divorce in 1935 and Luce married the actress-playwright Clare Boothe six weeks later. There were no children by this marriage. He spent some time with Mrs. Luce during her ambassadorship in Rome from 1953 to 1957, wryly identifying himself as "an ambassadorial assistant."

Oswald Linked To Garrison Probe Figure

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison has been given information that Lee Harvey Oswald and a man wanted for questioning in the Kennedy assassination investigation were picked up together by police here in 1963, the States-Item reported today.

The States-Item first reported that Oswald's companion was David W. Ferrie, identified by Garrison as a central figure in his investigation. But the newspaper said later the second man was not Ferrie.

Before he was found dead last Wednesday, Ferrie had insisted he did not know Oswald, named by the Warren Commission as the man who killed President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963.

The States-Item reported that Garrison's investigators were told by a New Orleans law officer that he found two men sitting in a parked car near Lake Pontchartrain early one morning in the fall of 1963.

One of the men identified himself as Oswald, the officer said. The States-Item reported in its first edition that the officer — after seeing Ferrie's body — said Ferrie positively was the second man. Later the newspaper said the second man was not Ferrie, but apparently was connected with another aspect of the Garrison probe.

Illness Delays Trial For Speck

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Accused mass killer Richard Speck, ill with stomach pains, was hustled from his jail cell to a doctor's office today and his murder trial was delayed for at least a day.

Speck, 25, was whisked under heavy guard to the office of Dr. Donald Burhans.

Burhans, testifying in court, then announced that the tall, raw-boned itinerant laborer from Dallas was suffering from gastritis, an inflammation of the mucuous membrane of the stomach, and "should make an uneventful recovery."

Circuit Court Judge Herbert C. Paschen then recessed Speck's trial, now in its seventh day, until tomorrow.

Nuclear Rocket Drive Funds Are Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for money to begin the development of a nuclear-powered rocket engine, the Rover.

For this and other scientific projects, Johnson asked a total of $149.8 million for use in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In addition to the nuclear-powered rocket engine, Johnson asked funds for a physics laboratory for basic physical and biochemical research and a specialized facility for further exploration into controlled thermonuclear fission as a potential source of electricity.

"The projects will advance America's ability to harness atomic energy for the peaceful exploration of space," Johnson stated. "They will also help us chart new courses in nuclear science."

Johnson said development of a nuclear-powered rocket engine will take time, and that present plans call for delivery of the first test model in about 1971.

Johnson seeks $91 million in fiscal 1968 for the rocket development and the remaining $5 million to develop the two new research facilities.

Both new research facilities will be built by the Atomic Energy Commission at its Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory.

Johnson said government scientists and engineers successfully have tested reactors and engines with 55,000 pounds of thrust, and have concluded that a much more powerful engine would have distinct advantages over those now in use.

The nuclear-powered engine is expected to have a thrust of 200,000 to 250,000 pounds.

Dr. Louis Rosen, a division head at the Los Alamos facility, said the physics facility sought by Johnson will permit scientists to try to develop a precise new ray for destroying cancerous tumors.

Zip Gun Probe Still Underway

The state crime laboratory in Sacramento continued its examination today of the zip gun used to kill San Quentin inmate Ronald Thomas Roberts Friday.

The gun was found in the prison after Roberts was discovered dying from a head wound in his cell. Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today fellow prisoners were continuing to be questioned about the murder.

San Francisco City Employees To Get Raises

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pay raises of $10.3 million a year for San Francisco city employees were approved by the Board of Supervisors last night.

The increases go to 12,633 miscellaneous employes, effective July 1. The payroll for the city's 24,600 employees totals about $206 million yearly.

All items in the city's biggest pay hike were approved despite a protest over a $46 monthly raise for the secretary of the Parking Authority. The post has been vacant since the death a year ago of Thomas J. O'Toole. Supervisor John A. Ertola protested, "How you can recommend a cost of living increases for a man who has passed away is beyond me."

Missing Felon Found In Chicago

A San Quentin inmate, who disappeared when he was sent to check the water level on the prison reservoir two years ago, has been found at last — in Chicago.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today Sherwood Eugene Davis, 41, was a fireman in the minimum security firehouse outside the prison gates when he failed to return from his errand.

He said Chicago police informed the prison today they were tipped to where Davis was working in the Chicago area and picked him up.

Davis was serving a six-month to 10-year sentence for assault with a deadly weapon in San Francisco at the time of his escape on April 19, 1965.

HETTIE ASKS LBJ

German Duty Slated For Soldier Brother

LOWESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Army infantryman George Maddox is being assigned to duty in Germany and his 9-year-old sister, Hettie, may have had something to do with it.

Recently, without the knowledge of her parents, Hettie wrote a letter to President Johnson and asked him not to send her brother, a private first class, to Vietnam.

"He is my only brother," she wrote, "and I cannot stand it if George got killed over there fighting."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold G. Maddox were somewhat surprised when Hettie received a letter from the Department of the Army signed by Maj. Gen. A. D. Connoe, chief of personnel operations.

The letter explained that special assignments cannot be given a soldier just because he is an only son.

But it added: "Your brother's commanding officers have been asked to talk to your brother and help him to be assigned near home if he is needed or to be assigned to a noncombat area if he qualifies."

A few days ago the Maddoxes received word of George's reassignment from Fort Carson, Colo., to Germany.

Viet Reds Unleash Powerful Rockets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Military officials disclosed yesterday that Connunitst used their most powerful mortar to date int their attack which killed or wounded 92 U.S. servicemen and Vietnamese civilians near Da Nang in South Viet Nam.

Spokesmen said the mortar used was a Russian-made 140 millimeter, or 5.6-inch, rocket capable of hitting targets six miles away. The range is almost double that of 120 millimeter mortar which Communitst have used before.

In the air war against North Vietnam yesterday, spokesmen said 69 missions were flown against communication and military storage targets in the southern panhandle region. Raids were limited by poor weather, spokesmen said.

In the war's largest ground campaign, Junction City, U.S. forces reported killing 27 Vet Cong in light, scattered action Monday. The operation is centered about 70 miles northwest of Saigon, in the Communist sactuary known as War Zone C.

At the town of Vu Chi about 18 miles northwest of Saigon, three persons were wounded Monday when Communist terrorists mined a three-wheeled scooter-taxi. In a rural area about five miles to the north, a car detonated a Viet Cong mine, killing one civilian and wounding six others.

U.S. Planning Further North Viet Attacks

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The United States plans still further intensification of its attacks on North Vietnam in an effort to persuade Hanoi to stop fighting and agree to peace talks, officials said today.

The mining of some North Vietnamese rivers, the naval bombardment of shore installations, and the shelling of the supposedly "demilitarized zone" were but the first in a series of steps designed to make the war still more painful for the Communists, they said.

Additional targets have been selected for U.S. bombers and will be attacked when the situation appears most opportune.

Officials emphasized, however, that the Johnson administration has made no decision to mine the major harbor of Haiphong, through which North Vietnam does most of its business with the outside world.

It was considered unlikely that this step would be taken in the near future, despite some Congressional and Pentagon pressure.

U.S. officials have been heartened by what they consider firm evidence that Russia for the first time has undertaken a serious effort to convince Hanoi it would do well to accept President Johnson's offer to talk peace.

Mao Forces Lose Some, Win Some

HONG KONG (UPI) — Reports from Red China said today supporters of party chairman Mao Tse-tung had established a "military dictatorship" in Shansi province, but suffered losses in another province and fought a bloody, all-day battle with anti-Maoites in Peking itself.

According to the official Bulgarian news agency BTA pro-and anti-Mao student groups clashed at the Peking People's University in what the agency described as "the biggest bloody beating" yet of Mao factions.

In another report of violence, the Czech news agency CTK quoted Peking wall posters as saying "white terror" was sweeping the southwestern province of Szechwan. CTK said anti-Mao officials rose in the provincial capital of Cheng Tu and spread their anti-Mao wave through factories and schools.

Last night, Peking radio said the province of Shansi had been placed under a pro-Mao "military dictatorship."

The broadcast, quoting an article in the authoritative Red Flag magazine, said troops loyal to Mao controlled the police, courts and prosecutors and other agencies in the strategic northern province near Peking.

Russ Trawler Capsizes; 40 Drowned

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Forty crewmen drowned when a Russian factory ship capsized today in stormy seas off the coast of Denmark, Danish authorities said.

There were 27 known survivors from the 2,500 ton Tukan, a mother ship for trawlers. They were taken aboard another Soviet vessel.

The Danish Air-Sea Recsue Center at Aarhus said 33 bodies were picked up by two Danish trawlers, four by a lifeboat and three by a Norwegian freighter.

The Tukan was believed to have carried a crew of 79.

The stricken vessel sent a brief mayday signal saying it was capsizing 16 miles northwest of the Hanstholm lighthouse on the northwest coast of Jutland.

A Danish helicopter took off at dawn to aid the rescue effort and several ships in the area turned toward the scene. By daybreak, the storm reportedly had abated.

Civil Rights Official Killed By Truck Bomb

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UPI) —A Negro civil rights leader, recently promoted to a job previously held by a white man, was killed late last night when a bomb shattered his pickup truck.

The blast shattered a six-month period of racial peace in this Mississippi delta city.

"We feel we can't take this lying down," said Evers, who once led protest demonstrations in this historic city. "We feel we have been as patient and tolerant as anyone can be, but we feel we must do something about this."

The incident was similar to the bombing of a car belonging to George Metcalfe, another local NAACP official, on Aug. 27,1965.

Committee Favors Country Role In Injury Conclave

The educational services committee of the Marin County Board of Education recommended last night that the county schools office co-sponsor the fourth annual sports injury conference May 6 in San Rafael.

Charles Nagel, health services coordinator, reported the schools office had been requested to co-sponsor the conference with the Marin Medical Society.

The conference will be devoted to reducing injuries in athletics, he said. The schools office would coordinate activities and contribute toward hiring speakers. The committee recommended participation at a cost not to exceed $300.

The conference was the only action on the committee's agenda for action, but there was a full slate of reports.

Nagel said there will not be a countywide science fair this year, but instead science fairs at school districts.

The best projects from the district fairs will be placed on display at the county schools office two weeks prior to the Bay Area Science Fair, which will be held April 8-12, he reported. There they will be judged by high school senior science students, and the top 22 exhibits will be sent to the Bay Area fair, he said.

The Committee Also Heard Reports That:

SMOKING CONFERENCE — Plans are under way for a course covering the hazards of smoking and techniques to use in teaching facts about smoking, to be given at San Rafael High School late in May.

SCIENCE TEXT SEMINAR — Harper and Row Publishing Co. will conduct a seminar on two science books adopted as basic state textbooks at the Civic Center May 4.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT — The Marin County Schools Office will coordinate the annual Marin County Junior High School Basketball Tournament at Davidson Junior High School, San Rafael, March 6, 7 and 8.

WILDLIFE SANCTUARY — The Audubon Society's Wildlife Sanctuary at Strawberry has been booked through the school year for field trips.

MATH PUBLICATION — "Modern Mathematics — Supplemental Aids" by Richard Melendy of Novato Unified School District, a part of the county's mathematics project, has been published.

Tam Students Clear The Air On Racism

By DAVID DIETZ

The day-long "breakthrough" program at Tamalpais High School yesterday was praised by participants as a major step toward improving race relations.

They looked ahead, however, to future discussions.

"The program did much to relieve barriers of communication," Principal Robert H. Prather said. "But ultimate success will depend on how far the students are willing to carry it."

Student leaders of the program thought more discussion groups would be useful, but took recommendations a step further. They said the Negro might feel a greater acceptance by whites if African history were taught in classrooms, if class integration were increased, and if advanced students were to tutor weaker ones.

During the program, which was organized by an Ad Hoc Committee of Concerned Students following fights between Negroes and whites at the Mill Valley school last fall, students formed in assembly to listen to speakers representing education and the clergy, then split into discussion groups moderated by adults.

The discussions ranged from inter-racial dating to riots.

Negroes and whites sat separately, and only a handful of students in each discussion group were talkative.

But said Prather, "One of the biggest problems we had that there were not enough Negroes to go around." (The school has 150 Negroes out of a student body of 1,700.)

The afternoon's keynote speaker was Negro author Lorenz Graham of Los Angeles, who urged the students to accept each other as "people," not as Negro or white.

He criticized members of his race who have said that Negroes should not fight in Vietnam because they had no freedom at home.

"I felt badly about that," he said. "But I'm not surprised to learn that a great many Negroes are dying in Vietnam. Blacks have fought in wars since a Negro slave was the first to die at Boston Common.

"I don't want to say this boastingly. I only want you to know what black people have done for America."

Addressing Negroes in the audience, he said: "Let's not throw out our chests and say we have done a lot for this country. But let us also not let anyone say this is a white man's country. It belongs to all of us."

A. G.M. spokesman said yesterday the strike left the G.M. parts pipeline dry. He said 14 of the 85 factories which were closed Friday would resume operations today but four more ran short of parts and closed yesterday. They were Chevrolet assembly plants and adjacent body plants in Framington, Mass., and Tarrytown, N.Y.

In City Prison were Melvin Clisby, 31, and James E. Moore, 31.

Unit Charges Will Go On Marin Bills

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Beginning in April, the mysterious and sometimes sizable message units charge on telephone bills will be itemized for San Francisco Bay Area subscribers.

The State Public Utilities Commission announced yesterday that Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. bills for residential subscribers thereafter will list separately each call outside the free dialing area.

Until now the message unit calls—at 4.05 cent per unit—have been lumped in one sum on subscriber bills.

The commission said the new residential billing system will cover San Francisco, Alameda, Marin and San Mateo counties, and major portions of Contra Costa and Santa Clara counties.

Computers will handle the new billing job, with the duration of the message unit calls automatically recorded on data processing tape.

Business subscribers in Contra Costa and Marin counties will get itemized message unit lists in their April bills.

Olympic Club Bar License Challenged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Attorney Terence Hallinan has challenged the right of the exclusive Olympic Club to have a liquor license because of its "whites only" membership policy.

Hallinan sent a letter yesterday to the state Board of Equalization asking that the club's license be revoked.

However, the board was the wrong agency. A spokesman said the letter would be sent on to the proper office — the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Department.

Hallinan, who was admitted to practice a little over a month ago after a lengthy fight with the state Bar, charged that the club's constitution "expressly limits membership to white males" and the club's executive board has "refused to repeal this section or to alter their discriminatory policies."

He said that continuing their liquor license constitutes a state action which aids discrimination prohibited by the California U.S. constitutions.

City Councilman Dean N. Meyer, the only councilman present last night, said the council expected to have Bala's estimates by Monday. "Hopefully, we can take action then," he said.

Schematic drawings of a "middle school" will begin in about four weeks, trustees were told by Worley K. Wong, but plans for the school will not be ready for almost six months.

Richard M. Jessup of Bushnell, Jessup, Murphy and Van de Weghe, archtiects disigning improvemtnts to existing schools, told the trustees his firm's plans were tied to plans of the other two firms, "but in four to six weeks we can have something."

The architects' plans, trustees agreed, will be specific enough to give voters a general idea of what is planned.

Acquisition of some of the privately owned land in the area "might take a year to work out," cautioned Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson.

Suggested McConnell: "we could put the school on our Enchanted Knolls property, and try to get agreement from the city to use Project 17 for recreation. It's our ace in the hole."

Asuggestion by trustee William P. Everts Jr. that a June bond election be held for improvements to xisting schools and fall bond election for the "middle school" was rejected. "If there's anything worse than one bond campaigh, it's two," said Dr. William L. Clark, board chairman.

The last vond election in the district was for $550,000, which passed with 75 per cent approval in 1961.

Mill Valley School District trustees also set a closed meeting March 7 at 7:30 p.m. to hear recommendations from their screening committee for a new superintendent.

They received a letter from Mrs. Carl Hepp, candidate in the April 18 school board election, urging trustees to cut expenditures, "not by 10 per cent, but by even one per cent to improve the climate of acceptance for a bond issue in June or November."

DAD'S HAT—San Rafael fireman Martin Rohrs visited Sun Valley School yesterday to talk about his job, and his son Billy showed his dad's helmet and hooks to classmate Dana Pierson. (Independent-Journal photo)

HE'S IMPORTANT

Fireman Dad Visits His Son's School

By PAT PERRY

Crewcut Jeff asks: "How do you stop burning your hands when you slide down the pole?"

Pony-tailed Phyllis raises her hand: "Are you scared up on the ladders when you're fighting a fire?"

Then, proud and shy and wriggling with excitement, Billy Rohrs shouts: "Do you ever get to drive to a fire when that engineer guy gets off, Dad?"

And Martin Rohrs, San Rafael fireman, grins and nods his head.

On the premise that "Dad Is Important," Mrs. Paula Caldwell's second-third grade class at Sun Valley School in San Rafael has augmented social studies about the community by inviting fathers to come to class and talk about their work.

Yesterday fireman Rohrs handed around his helmet and hooks. San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini has already talked to the children; so has another fireman, Heber Mellor.

Today, Stuart Hyde, a San Francisco State College professor, was to talk to the class about television production. Later he will take the children on a tour of his experimental television project at the college. Tomorrow landscape architect Charles Podesta will visit the class, and Bruce Weber, manager of Montgomery Ward's Corte Madera store, is on the visiting dad's list for next month.

There's a wide and wonderful variety of dads — a plumber, a painter, a welder, a professor, an insurance salesman, an IBM manager. The children made a mural depicting their fathers at work, although it's evident some have pretty hazy ideas about the breadwinner's occupation. Glenn Weber drew his father wearing a Batman mask in front of a toy store.

San Francisco Studies Pulling Out Of ABAG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shocked by "a stinging defeat" in the Association of Bay Area Governments, San Francisco supervisors reexamined today the city's membership in the regional agency.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday ordered a committee to study San Francisco's continued alliance with the association of eight counties and 91 cities.

Supervisor Dorothy von Beroldingen sparked the investigation. She reported that two San Francisco requests failed dismally at an ABAG meeting Friday. One called for popular election of half of ABAG's 34 member executive committee. The other would prevent ABAG from condemning property owned by city or county members.

"If our airport, our watershed, if any of our prized lands suddenly became the prized goals of the other eight counties, we know now what our position would be," Mrs. von Beroldingen said. "We must reexamine our position with regard to ABAG without abandoning our interest in regional government."

Some San Mateo communities have also talked of pulling out of ABAG.

Rafael Theater Gets New Look—Plush Interior Lobby

Wall Panels Replace Old Murals; Changes In Carpeting, Lighting

There is a new look at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael, where workmen have been giving this showhouse its first major redecorating since 1931.

The biggest change in the Rafael's appearance will be seen in the new vertical wall panels, carpeting and lighting fixtures—as well as a revamping of the candy counter decor.

Instead of the previous orange and red, the color scheme is now a combination of gold and bronze. Joseph Blumenfeld, oldest member and head of the family-owned Blumenfeld theater chain, worked closely with Dorothy Williams of Floorcraft, Inc. in selecting the carpeting theme. A distinct improvementis in the individual vertical wall panels of plastic—a pleasing change from the former horizontal wall decor. Bert Franklin of Albers-Gruen and Associates, Inc. was in charge of the interior decorating.

Overhead in the lobby is a large crystal chandelier, and an antique glass mirror over the doorway covers a mural that adorned the wall for many years.

Glass work was performed by Crown Glass, while Kennedy Painting installed the Dek-O-Al seamless flooring behind the candy counter and did the painting. Electrical work was performed by Bowman Electric Co. Emanuel Mula of Ross was the general contractor for the job.

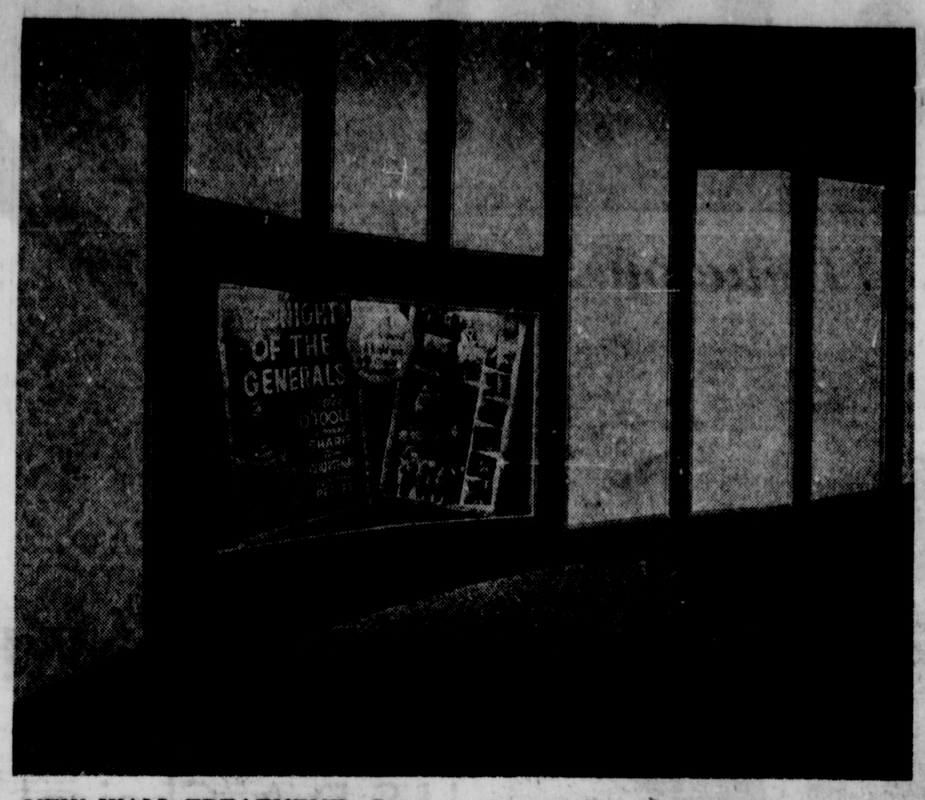
The Rafael is celebrating its remodeling with the presentation on Wednesday of the Paramount picture "Funeral in Berlin" in Technicolor and Panavision, produced by Harry Saltzman and Charles Kasher and starring Michael Caine, Eva Renzi and Oscar Homolka.

Other first run features to follow are "Night of the Generals" with Peter O'Toole, Omar Sharif and Tom Countenay; "Hotel," starring Rod Taylor and Catherine Spaak; "The 25th Hour," with Anthony Quinn and Verna Lisi. All are in color.

And a special for the youngsters at Easter vacation will be Walt Disney's "Bullwhip Griffin," with Roddy McDowell, Suzanne Pleshette and Karl Malden.

The Rafael has made a policy of selecting especially good "kiddie matinees" for Saturday afternoons—pictures that have been approved by the Marin Motion Picture Council. It has long been known as "the home of Walt Disney in Marin."

Theater capacity is 864 seats—including 140 in the loge section.



NEW WALL TREATMENT—Interior wall decor at the Rafael has been changed from a horizontal to vertical theme as shown in these wall panels. Carpeting also is new, with extra thick padding that not only makes for comfortable walking and standing but long wear.

CRYSTAL AND ANTIQUE GLASS—Taken during remodeling work at the Rafael Theater in downtown San Rafael, this photograph shows the heavy crystal chandelier that now hangs in the lobby—a replica of a fixture of Caesar's Den in Las Vegas. Workmen are covering a wall mural with sections of antique glass above the theater entrance.

Berlin Is Right Location For Intriguing Spy Film

When you're doing a film about espionage on location in Berlin, a city riddled with espionage, you can run into a lot of intriguing and confounding complications.

Producers Harry Saltzman and Charles Kasher obviously felt it was worth the effort, and the result of their labors, "Funeral in Berlin," a Paramount picture in Technicolor and Panavision, will open tomorrow at the Rafael Theater.

During the 10 weeks of location work in Berlin the entire operation was designed to fool as many people as possible. The title, as far as Berliners were concerned, was "Finale in Berlin," and as for the subject matter it was an innocuous musical—rather than a story of international intrigue and espionage. Cast and crew were warned not to discuss the film with outsiders.

In the picture, ex-Army corporal Harry Palmer, played by Michael Caine, is give a choice of being a spy or facing a lengthy prison sentence. Colonel Stok (Oscar Homolka) of Russian intelligence is thinking of defecting to the West.

Palmer, using an alias and posing as a ladies' underwear salesman, comes face to face with Stok in East Berlin after a passage through Checkpoint Charlie. He questions Stok's sincerity after trapping him in a lie.

Back in West Berlin, Eva Renzi comes into the story as Samantha Steel, passing as an American model but actually working for Israeli Intelligence. Complications develop after it is planned that Stok will cross the border in a coffin. When the funeral arrives in the West and the coffin is opened, inside is the dead body of Kreutzmann, a professional who arranged for the escape.

Rafael First Theater Opened By Blumenfeld

The Rafael was the first theater to be opened by the Blumenfelds when they moved to Marin County—and it has been the last to undergo an interior refurbishing in their year-long renovation program in the county.

Originally known as the Orpheus, the Rafael was built by the Tunstead Estate for Max Blumenfeld in 1920—only three years after he entered the motion picture theater business in San Francisco. It was one of his earliest showhouses. His oldest sons Joe and Abe got much of their theater experience here—which later qualified them to take over administrative work as the business grew larger. Their younger brothers Nate and Jack were trainees at El Sequoia and the Tamalpais.

Early competition for the Orpheus in downtown San Rafael was negligible. Next door was the Lyric, an upstairs nickelodeon, but this found the going too rough to buck its neighbor's more sophisticated film features and closed soon afterward.

During the 1930s, fire gutted the interior of the Orpheus and entailed considerable remodeling. When the work was completed it reopened under its new name, which has been kept ever since.

This is the Rafael's third major renovation and completion comes approximately one year after work updating the Blumenfelds' Marin theaters began with the Tamalpais in San Anselmo. Since then the Lark, Sequoia and Fairfax all have been done over.

Film On Greece Slated At College

"Magnificent Greece," a 90-minute travel film in color, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Thursday at Olney Hall, College of Marin. The film's photographer, Dwight Nichols, will narrate.

The film is also accompanied by musical background and sound effects recorded during the filming in Greece.

The showing in sponsored by the Associated Students of the College of Marin and the Explorers Club of San Francisco. Proceeds will provide scholarships to College of Marin students.

HE'S ALWAYS COOKING—An interesting character identification of Harry Palmer, the espionage agent played by Michael Caine, is his ability as a chef. Here, in one of the milder scenes of the Harry Saltzman production of Len Deighton's "Funeral in Berlin", opening tomorrow at the Rafael Theater, Palmer whips up a meal for his spy-playmate Samantha Steel (Eva Renzi).

'The Sand Pebbles' Premiere Arranged

Junior and Senior Catholic Social Service Auxiliary of Marin has arranged the Northern California benefit premiere of the movie, "The Sand Pebbles," tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Golden Gate Penthouse, San Francisco.

Festivities will begin with arrival of a Chinese junk filled with the St. Mary's Chinese girls' drill team. The film's stars, Steve McQueen and Richard Crenna, has been invited.

Puppet Play Set At Marin College

"The Net," a puppet play created by the Berkeley Puppeteers, will be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall at the College of Marin, as part of the college's concert-lecture series.

Puppeteers Bill Cassady and Hilga Williamson will also present a survey on "Puppetry as a Theater Art."

Fiscal Expert Says Budget Is Too Small

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature's fiscal watchdog—declaring Gov. Ronald Reagan's $4.62 billion economy budget is too low—wants more money for education and rejects tuition for the state university and colleges.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post differed sharply yesterday with the Republican governor, who has stirred up a storm with demands for tuition and an average 10 per cent cutback in state spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

TAX NEEDED

But he agreed with Reagan that a major new tax program is needed, possibly bigger than the governor is considering.

California, he said, must continue to invest in "critical needs such as education and the courts" instead of initiating the "pause" in rising expenditures that Reagan advocates.

Post's annual report is expected to provide fresh ammunition for Democrats and Republican legislators who say Reagan must compromise.

Using present spending of $4.87 billion as a guideline, Post called for $90.52 million in spending cuts. But he recommended $60.19 million in increases, for a net reduction of only $30.33 million.

SOME CRITICISM

That's far below anything envisioned by Reagan.

Post, who has earned a reputation as a budget-cutter, said Reagan should boost his recommended General Fund spending from $2.99 million to $3.12 million.

And he was critical of the manner in which Reagan lopped 10 per cent off the top of the budget he submitted Jan. 31, with details to be filled in l.

Nevertheless, he differed sharply with the governor on both spending and policy.

HITS TUITION

He disapproved of tuition for the university and colleges "at this time." Reagan advocates the additional fees as both a $38 million money maker for his budget—and as a needed educational reform.

Post's rejection of tuition would add $20 million to U.C. revenue needs and $18 million to the colleges. He proposed a few cuts, but they were modest in comparison with what Reagan sought.

He said Reagan wants to cut education spending by $127 million below current levels. Higher education, he said, would be hit by a $104 million, or 15.9 per cent cut.

Yacht Club's Plea On Agenda

Sausalito Yacht Club's request that conditional uses allowed in open area districts be amended to include yacht clubs will be heard tomorrow by Sausalito Planning Commission at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

The request is the opening move in the club's plan to expand its club and docking facilities north of the Trade Fair. Designation of the waterfront as an open area district came after the club located there.

The city's "701" planners have recommended relocation of the club north of the sandspit to keep the waterfront open. The proposed library site is northeast of the club.

Also on the agenda is a use permit application from Humble Oil Co. for a gas station at 1501-1519 Bridgeway.

Assembly Sets Easter Recess

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly has decided to take a 10-day recess during the Easter holiday season next month.

Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, told newsmen yesterday following a closed-door meeting that the Assemblymen felt the legislature became a showplace" during Easter.

Schools generally close during that period and children of legislators and attaches become honorary pages, crowding the lower house floor.

The Senate has already approved a joint resolution calling the recess March 17-27. It is expected to clear the Assembly Rules Committee this week.

Legislators would lose their $25-a-day, 7-day-a-week per diem during the recess period.

Office Approved

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday granted a use permit to allow Miwok Corp. to build a tract sales office at Ahab and Seacape drives in Muir Beach.

Nursery School's Use Of Building Opposed

The San Rafael Board of Education will receive a request at 7:30 p.m. today to consider use of the former district building at San Rafael High School by the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School.

Any such move is opposed by attorney John G. Buresh, representing "a number of San Rafael taxpayers" who object to any "unauthorized or illegal" use of high school property for exclusive use of the nursery school, according to a letter addressed to the board by Buresh.

Supt. John F. Plank said there will be no board action tonight on a letter from the nursery school asking for consideration when there is a decision on use of the building. "We have plans to use it as part of the maintenance establishment," he said.

The building will be available for other uses when rehabilitation of the high school is completed. It has been used for classrooms during the high school remodeling, since administrative offices were moved to the former E Street School, where the board will meet.

In his letter to the board, Buresh said he did not assume the board "had agreed or intended to make a deal with the nursery school," but sent the letter to alert the board "to the magnitude of the problem."

He said he had no quarrel with the nursery school or its work, but contended that it is not legal for it to take over any part of district property.

Leftover Items On Council List

Items left over from the preceding meeting make up the agenda for Novato City Council's meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Jack Whitcomb of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce will report on the "voice to city hall" project. The council will also receive a report from the bay area conservation development council.

The long-discussed city seal will be reported on by Councilman Douglas M. Merrill.

The council will schedule meetings including a hearing on the civic center next Tuesday, meetings with the planning and parks and recreation commissions, and budget sessions.

A traffic survey report, and application for fun fair shows to be at the Novato Fair Shopping Center March 8 to 12 are also scheduled.

RUN OF BAD LUCK — Tini-Bit-O'Gold is hobbling around with both of his front legs in casts. The adventurous Cleveland pooch jumped off a bed awhile ago, breaking his right front leg. Still wearing a cast, he jumped down a flight of stairs last week and broke the left front leg. (UPI Telephoto)

McCandless Is Back On Board

LA MESA (AP)—Dr. William J. McCandless, whose nomination to the State Board of Education was withdrawn last week, was reappointed last night to the La Mesa - Spring Valley Board of Education.

All three members attending the meeting voted to reinstate McCandless. He had been removed from the board when Gov. Ronald Reagan nominated him for the state post.

Reagan withdrew McCandless' nomination when opposition developed from San Diego area senators and others.

Dinghy Missing

A six-foot white plastic dinghy was stolen or set adrift from a dock on the San Rafael Canal, owner John C. Reid of 550 Canal Street, San Rafael, told police yesterday. He described the boat as somewhat battered about the prow and bearing two names — "Leaky Tiki" on the transon and "Ocean Motion" on the bottom.

Consular Pact Passes Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The consular treaty with the Soviet Union was approved today on a 10-4 vote by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., who left a closed session early, announced the vote. He said he was one of the four opposing ratification.

The treaty now goes to the floor where Republican Senators may continue their opposition to the agreement as an unnecessary concession to Moscow that will help North Vietnam and facilitate Communist espionage.

A two-thirds majority approval is necessary for Senate ratification.

Abortion Bill

SACRAMENTO (CNS) —Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, has reintroduced his bill which would permit abortions if the mother's health would be endangered by continuing the pregnancy, if there was a substantial risk the child would have grave physical or mental defects, or if the pregnancy was the result of rape or incest.

Committee Again Asks Police Service Area

Members of the Marin Cities-County Services Committee last night unanimously reaffirmed its recommendation for a county services area in unincorporated areas to assume the burden of police protection.

The recommendation had further refinements on the earlier proposal turned down by supervisors in December.

Under a county service area, the patrol functions and other services now financed by county-wide tax would be born by taxpayers in the unicorporated areas.

The committee last night agreed, Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported, that detective service, police protection in Marin City, protection connected with tourism, and regional need and a certain minimum level of patrol would remain as county-wide responsibility to be borne by all taxpayers.

The jail and civil departments of the sheriff's office would also be supported county-wide, Barrows said.

The committee named Councilman Michael Wornum of Mill Valley as chairman. There was no chairman previously. Other members of the committee are Councilman Douglas M. Merrill of Novato and Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and John F. McInnis.

The county service area proposal has been under study by the committee nearly ever since its formation 18 months ago. Supervisors in December turned down both that proposal and another suggestion for consolidation of all police departments in the county.

Cities generally favor the service area proposal since it would reduce the tax rate for city property owners.

'On Her Own Since 14' Told To Go Home, Grow Up Normal Way

DEAR HELEN:

I am 16. I have been out on my own since I was 14, when my parents were divorced. I don't live at either of their homes, but last year my mother claimed me on her income tax. This year my father wants to claim me on his. Both have given me money from time to time. They are arguing, and I'm afraid if I let my mother claim me, my Dad won't have anything to do with me, and if my father claims me, my mother won't speak to me. I love them both.—WHICH?

DEAR WHICH:

Why not let the income tax people figure this one out? More important—what's a 14-year-old girl doing "on her own?"

If you're tripping with the hippies for heaven's sake, go home quick and grow up the normal way!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am 16 and want to get a part-time job. But my father, who is self-employed, says I have to help him in his work, after school and on weekends. He said I am obligated because he worked so hard to raise me. I need money and don't have any. Tell me what to do.—DISAPPOINTED JUNIOR PARTNER WITHOUT PAY.

DEAR DIS:

Junior partners deserve something more than room and board. If you are helping your father earn money, you should have a share of it—at least an adequate allowance. Point out what you could earn elsewhere and perhaps he'll consent to negotiate. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Last year a friend of mine fell in with a wild group. Due to my dislike of this crowd our frendship ended, but I worry about her, anyway.

Her mother is dead and her father is an easy mark. She has been sneaking out of her bedroom window and going everyplace. She was stopped by the police twice and the way she talks she's taken LSD, smoked marijuana, drinks, and has affairs.

She is now madly in love with a guy and does everything he says. Her dad is completely unaware of all this. What can I do to keep her life from being ruined?—W.F.

DEAR W:

Stop protecting her! Get the word to her father. I hope he believes you.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

You'll think this is no big thing, but you've never heard my father sneeze! Honest, when he sneezes, our cat raises right up out of the chair about six feet and then streaks out of the room and under the bed. He won't come out for hours. If it does this is to cat, think what it dose to humans. What can we do? Hay fever season is coming, and we're—NERVOUS WRECKS

DEAR N. W.

I don't think there's any way to muzzle a sneezer, but your father might muffle it with a handkerchief — or, better yet, ask the doctor for hay fever pills. They help! —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I want to say "Thanks" to "A Loser Who Smiles." I lost my boy friend too. We didn't break up because I refused him, but because I didn't. We broke up because he stopped respecting me, I guess. I've learned sex is for married people—it's against all laws of teen-age love, but if you want to keep him, don't give in!

I still love him very, very much, but he has shown me he only wanted a conquest. I haven't cried once.—L. B. L.

Spray Paints

When spraying aerosol paints, do not hold the can too close to the surface, cautions the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. This can result in overpainting, as well as dripping and running. Best results are achieved by spraying very thin, wet coats, and allowing drying time between each.

Chamber Declines Gift From Tibubron Council

The Belvedere-Tiburon Chamber of Commerce last night turned down a gift from the City of Tiburon.

City councilmen at their regular meeting offered to budget $500 as an outright grant to the chamber, but chamber president William L. Howell said that wasn't what his organization wanted.

"You write the checks," said Howell, "and let us present you with ideas for promoting the City of Tiburon.

What the chamber does want, Howell said, is 25 per cent of whatever Tiburon realizes from its 4 per cent motel room tax, to be used for "visitor orientation" projects.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose, however, recommended the room tax revenues be allocated first to basic services, such as police and public works.

Rampton W. Harvey, chairman of Tiburon Peninsula advisory committee, said his group would favor the city attracting "not tourists, but smokeless, noiseless, profitable, unseen industries that won't add to the traffic jam on Sundays."

Benjamin A. Farlatti, manager of the Tiburon Lodge, Tiburon's only motel, said the lodge has been bringing in an average of 100 visitors a day. He urged the council to use part of the tax revenue for beautification of the city to attract "desirable visitors" and to install a sidewalk on Tiburon Boulevard for the safety and convenience of both visitors and residents.

The council directed Mayor John S. Hoffmire and Councilman Gordon W. Strawbridge to study the chamber's request in preparing the fiscal 1968 budget.

Johnson, district manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., that the council will be ready to discuss a plan for underground utilities whenever PG&E and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. are ready. RAILROAD RIGHT-OF-WAY — Enacted an urgency ordinance putting the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way into the city's interim zone, requiring use permits for future developments of the property.

MOTORCYCLES PROHIBITED—Introduce an ordinance prohibiting operation of motorcycles on unimproved roads in the city, without a permit.

TREE REMOVAL — Introduced an ordinance requiring permits to remove trees from private property.

PARKING LOT — Continued until the March 13 meeting Matthew Weinberg's appeal of turndown of waterfront parking lot. The matter is in court.

LANDSCAPING TIBURON BOULEVARD — Established a policy that landscaping along Tiburon Boulevard should fall within the scope of the parks and recreation commission, but took no action on an appropriation of $2,000 requested by the recreation commission for the landscaping.

Sausalito To Salute Sister City

Sausalito's "Salute to Vina Del Mar" to mark the seventh anniversary of the affiliation of the sister cities will be commemorated this week with a breakfast, band concert and school programs.

On Saturday, a no-host breakfast will be held at 9:45 a.m. in the Alta Mira Hotel. Mayor Mel Wax will welcome Hector Burr, consul-general of Chile, and a Chilean student's view of Sausalito will be presented by Cristina Pereira, exchange student from Vina at Tamalpais High School. Terry Copperman, Tam senior who returned this month after a year in Vina, will discuss his experience.

At noon, a band concert will be held in Vina Del Mar Plaza.

On Thursday, Letha Jean Brock's second grade class will present "Los Tres Osos" (The Three Bears), an original playlet in Spanish by the students, in the Central School auditorium at 10:10 a.m.

On Friday, Richardson Bay School Spanish Club will sponsor a program of slides, songs and dances at 7 p.m. in the multipurpose room. Proceeds will be shared by the club and Sausalito Sister City Fund.

Shopper Arrested

Noel Claire Weeks, 18, of 50 Monte Cimas Avenue, Mill Valley, was booked yesterday at county jail by Mill Valley police for suspicion of shoplifting merchandise worth $3.24 from Food King Market, 393 Miller Avenue. She was placed under citizen's arrest by James V. Miller, manager of the market.

Delay Asked In Developing Tiburon Area

The Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee asked the Tiburon City Council last night to declare a moratorium on development of the east side of Tiburon Boulevard between the Safeway store and Mar West Street.

The board of adjustments on Feb. 20 approved general uses in a plan by developer Frank Hoffman for a professional and commercial center in the area.

In the belief the adjustment board had granted a use permit for the development, a group of five residents attempted to lodge an appeal before the council last night. However, the council said the appeal was premature.

Rampton W. Harvey, TPAC chairman, reminded councilmen there had been questions raised on whether the board of adjustment should examine master and development plans, rather than the planning commission.

Councilman Thomas Drohan suggested the planning commission be advised of the discussion and that the master plan application be put before the entire commission. Councilmen also decided to advise the commission they would consider putting master plans before the commission to avoid confusion in future applications.

Arraignment On Armed Robbery

Loverd Howard, 18, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of the Feb. 11 armed robbery of Richard Lomax and Nanya Baker in Marin City, and was to enter plea this afternoon before Judge Hadden W. Roth.

Howard, of 99 Cole Drive, allegedly robbed Lomax, 34, of 325 Turney Street, Sausalito, and Miss Baker, 36, of $85 at gunpoint at her apartment at 901 Drake Avenue.

Postal Carrier's Extra Duty Cited

Walter D. Hubbard, Mill Valley post office carrier, yesterday received a superior accomplishment award and $100 from the U. S. Post Offcie Department for putting out a garage fire he discovered while on a Tamalpais Valley route.

Investigating when he smelled smoke, Hubbard found a roaring fire in the garage of the J. W. Brown home, at 490 Green Glen Way. Hubbard extinguished the fire with a garden hose. Firemen credited his quick work with saving the unoccupied house, which is connected to the garage.

Groups Agree More Counsel To Minorities

Marin County supervisors, meeting with members of the County Human Rights Commission today, agreed that more could be done to help minorities through school counseling and the commission should seek means of improving the service.

Rev. John J. O'Connor of the commission told the board that there is a hard core of Negroes at Tamalpais High School that most school officials regrad as "sort of a threat." He said neither counselors nor teachers are able to deal with the group and the "Teachers give them A's, B's and C's just to pass them on."

Supervisors also agreed that they would accept recommendation from the commission on improving police-community relations. Commission executive Robert Brauer told the board the most effective method has been through citizen committees, but these have to originate from the community itself.

Both supervisors and commissioners agreed that further efforts should be made with Marin businessmen, encouraging them to hire and train minorities.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Thomas T. Storer stressed the importance of education, and it agreed to invite County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis to the next meeting.

480 Children Get TB Tests

Tuberculin skin tests were administered yesterday to about 480 children in Lagunitas School by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association and the County Health Department.

The agencies expect to test a total of 3,100 Marin school children this year. The next visit will be to St. Isabella's School, Terra Linda, and St. Anselm's School, San Anselmo, on March 6.

Hub Councilmen Ask More Hiring Data

The San Anselmo City Council, meeting in closed session last night, reviewed about 14 applications for city administrator and decided to get more information on the candidates, according to Mayor John M. Reichmuth.

The mayor said the council felt an administrator should be hired as quickly as possible, but did not reach any decision on how long the council might take to choose one.

Former Drug Addict Wins Top Position With Synanon

JACK HURST
From bottom to top

High school drop-out and former drug addict Jack Hurst was today named to the top job in Synanon Foundation, the organization he joined eight years ago in his first attempt to "kick the habit."

Director of the Synanon's facility at Marshall since 1962, Hurst was appointed president and executive director of Synanon Foundation Inc., and moved to its headquarters in Santa Monica. He is 36.

The career of Hurst is the story of an addict totally rehabilitated and dedicated to helping others overcome the habit.

In the early 1950s he turned to burglary and smuggling to support the cost of drugs. A little over 10 years later — in 1965 — he had organized the old Marconi site at Marshall into Synanon's first "comuniversity" and was a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee to Marin County Board of Education.

His new job will make him responsible for the overall management of the foundation. He succeeds Charles Dederich, Synanon founder, who will continue as the chairman of the organization's board of directors.

A native Californian, Hurst was a carpenter before entering Synanon in 1959. He was made the first director of the now defunct Westport, Conn., facility, and also served as Synanon's first director of industries.

He is married and the father of three children.

Children's Books Display Slated

An exhibit of 600 new children's books will be on display March 13-15 in the multippurpose room at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

The books, aimed at 4 to 14-year age, will not be on sale but will give anyone who is interested a chance to learn what new children's books are available, according to Larkspur school district librarian Lois Ewald.

Exhibit hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday and Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growning hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc. will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquires are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Supervisors Little Red Over Exhibit

Marin County supervisors, who recently decided not to put a Marin exhibit in the state fair this year, were embarrassed by the decision today.

Robert Setrakian of Kentfield, recently named president of the California State Fair, appeared before the board to introduce himself.

He did not bring up the subject of a Marin exhibit. But supervisors did, and agreed to reconsider their decision next Tuesday. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested that some kind of display be prepared, showing cultural activities in the county.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr revived his idea for a model of Mount Tamalpais. Chairman Thomas T. Storer had to hold down the discussion a bit, saying there woudl be more time to go into it next week.

William Goold, chief of the bureau of exhibits, distributed gifts to the supervisors: desk name plates, combined with rulers and calendars, compliments of the California State Fair.

Substance Checked For Marijuana

An unsuccessful attempt to smuggle what apparently is a small quantity of marijuana into county jail was disclosed today by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

He said the substance, sufficient to make about three cigarettes, is being analyzed at the State Narcotics Bureau laboratory in San Francisco to determine if it is marijuana.

Deputies reported the wife of an inmate presented five packs of cigarettes from the jail's cigarette machine to Sgt. Joseph Mooney, a jailer, for her husband on Feb. 17.

One of the packs, all specially marked to insure that profits from cigarette sales go toward a fund for inmates, had been tampered with, then resealed, Sergeant Mooney noted.

The suspected substance had been tamped into a side of the pack, along with 14 remaining cigarettes, officers said. They said the wife confronted with the tampering, said a young man outside the jail who told her he had just been released had given her the pack to give her husband.

Oriental Style Pump House Wins Approval

Esthetics triumphed yesterday as Marin Municipal Water District directors awarded a contract for a pump house which chairman Robert G. Anderson thought looked like a Japanese tea house.

District directors were startled when Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger presented drawings of the design for a new pump house to be located at the head of Elizabeth Way to increase water pressure in San Rafael's Fairhills and Rafael Highlands.

A marked departure from the water district's tradition, the pump house will have an Oriental roof design, with cedar shake roof, and redwood rustic combined with concrete blocks in the walls.

Board members unanimously approved the design, then awarded Hayco Co. of Tiburon, low bidder, a contract to build the pump house at $6,474. Seeger told the board the building would cost only about $500 more than in the standard "cracker box" pump house design.

Vandals Scratch Mill Valley Cars

Scratches by vandals on three new cars were reported yesterday to Mill valley police by Larry Brink, owner of Larry Brink Motors, 250 East Blithedale Avenue. The vandalism occurred during the week end, he said.

Theft of a radio antenna from his car was reported today to police by Philip Schisler, 15 Upland Avenue, Mill Valley. He said the antenna was taken sometime during the night while his car was parked in his carport.

Craig, a California Highway Patrolman for seven years prior to working the past three years as an insurance claims adjustor, resides at 9 Arbor Circle, Novato. He has a wife, Bernice, and five children.

Gravel Hearing Could Effect Water Projects

A four-year-old $275,000 gravel excavation suit against Marin Municipal Water District has been set for a State Supreme Court hearing in May that may have far-reaching effect on water projects throughout the state.

In April of 1963, Joslin Brothers, operators of a gravel plant on Paper Mill Creek below Nicasio Dam, filed suit in Marin Superior Court claiming that construction of the dam by the district had caused gravel to stop coming by the plant, thus depriving the company of its source of material.

Joslin Brothers attorney, W. O. Weissich, said the firm had been taking $12,500 a year in gravel from the creek until the dam eliminated the source in 1962.

1965 RULING

The suit was dismissed in July, 1965, by Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating, who held there was "no substantial right of the plaintiffs violated by the defendants."

That decision was reversed last December by the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco, which ruled that "benefits accruing to a landowner because of the annual rise and fall of the waters of a stream may establish a right to such benefits and interference with such a right requires compensation."

The water district promptly appealed this reversal to the State Supreme Court.

Last night, MWWD attorney Robert W. Elliott told district directors that the statewide Irrigation Districts Association will take sides with the district in its court fight. He said the association, which has a membership of 260 public water agencies, will file a "friend of the court" brief on behalf of the district.

While downstream owners do have rights to water itself in such cases, Elliott said, the issue here is whether they also have rights to matter suspended in or carried by the water. He said a decision in favor of Joslin Brothers would have "incalculable effects" on water projects throughout the state.

The result, he said, could so increase the cost of water conservation that water may have to be let waste to sea.

District officers last night approved payment of $3,185 for preparation of briefs by Bacigalupi, Elkus, Salinger and Rosenberg, a law firm specializing in such briefs and recommended by Elliott.

Consulting Firm On Board Agenda

The Marin Junior College District board will consider hiring an educational consulting firm to prepare a master plan for the Kentfield and North Marin campuses Thursday at 8 p.m. in Room G-3 of the physical education building.

The board will also consider installation of directional and regulatory signs and building identification signs on the Kentfield campus.

A report will be made on spring enrollment, and the board will be asked to hire four instructors for non-credit courses and two classified employees. The board wil hear a report on evaluation of "non-tenured" faculty members.

The board may consider revising district policy on community use of district facilities.

Five Seeking Positions As Trustees

Filings of candidacy in five school districts were reported by the county superintendent of schools office today as the deadline neared for filing for the April 18 trustee elections.

In San Anselmo district, Mrs. Cornelia B. Busse of 20 Berkeley Avenue, San Anselmo, filed her petition. She is serving on the board by appointment, completing the term expiring this year of Mrs. Doris Harnsberger, who resigned. She was appointed in September.

In Novato Unified district, Mrs. Carolyn M. Crabtree of 663 Cherry Street filed a petition of candidacy.

In Laguna District, Mrs. Agnes Terribilini of 2582 Chileno Valley Road, Petaluma, filed for re-election. She has been on the Laguna board since 1958, first by appointment, then twice elected.

In Sausalito district, Raymond G. Gergus of 60 Woodward Avenue, a naval architect, filed his petition.

In Mill Valley district, candidacy was filed by Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Hepp of 155 Elma Avenue.

Terra Linda Loan Vote Repeated

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District last night formally approved borrowing $8,000 from the Bank of America to finance district operations until the end of the fiscal year.

Chairman Norman Gurin reported the action ratified a vote of a week ago on a resolution approving the loan. The county counsel's office recommended minor changes in the wording of the resolution, so the vote had to be taken again, Gurin said.

The resolution was approved 4-0 with director Cecilia Martz absent.

FOES OF LIBRARY NOT SAUSALITANS

Backers Of $250,000 Bond Issue Question Arguments By 'Outsiders'

The two signers of the ballot argument against Sausalito's $250,000 bond measure for a new library do not live in the city, the Citizens Committee for the New Library declared today.

The anti-bond argument by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce was signed by Robert Rogers, chamber president, and Clifford C. Christison, chamber treasurer. Rogers lives in Tiburon and Christison in Greenbrae.

"We do not wish to imply that Mr. Rogers or Mr. Christison has done anything illegal," said Mrs. Howard Sievers, co-chairman of the citizens committee, but she objected to inclusion with sample ballots of an argument signed by "outsiders."

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said the state election code requires only that arguments on a bond measure by an organization be signed by "at least two of its principal officers." The code does not require that they be registered voters or property owners, he said.

"The logical extension of the citizens committee argument would be that most of the city councilmen should not serve because they work in San Francisco," commented Rogers. His store, Paint n' Putter, returns more tax revenue to the city than most homeowners, he declared. Christison is manager of the Sausalito Branch of Wells Fargo Bank.

Mrs. Sievers called it regrettable that Rogers and Christison "did not list their home addresses on the ballot, because many voters might have been confused into believing the argument was signed by Sausalitans.

The committee understands that Mr. Rogers, Mr. Christison and the other non-resident members and officers of Sausalito's modest chamber of commerce are interested in our community . . . Still, the families of the two signers of the opposition argument can rely on the facilities provided in the areas where they live. Their families will not suffer if Sausalito is deprived of a fine new library."

In its argument against the bond measure to finance the $450,000 library, the chamber agreed a new library is needed, but opposed the cost and the proposed site northeast of Vina Del Mar Plaza.

The ballot argument for the measure was signed by 30 residents.

Trailer Reported Stolen By Owner

A two-wheel white trailer valued at $300 was stolen during the weekend, owner Kenneth A. Ramsey told San Rafael police yesterday.

Ramsey, of 460 Canal Street, Apt. 12, said his trailer had been parked beside the apartment house. It was stolen between 1:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. Sunday ,he said.

General To Talk Before Airmen

Brig. Gen. Paul R. Stoney, vice commander of the Air Force Communications Service from Scott Air Force Base, Ill., will address a dining-in at 6 p.m. Saturday of the non-commissioned officers from headquarters, Western Communications Region, at the non-commissioned Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force zbase.

This is the first dining-in of the noncommissioned officers from the region since the headquarters were established in 1961 at Hamilton.

15 Pupils Get Suspensions For Mischief

Fifteen pupils of Lucas Valley School were suspended temporarily yesterday for the part they played in damage at the school during the weekend.

Eleven of the pupils were told to stay at home today, and four — considered by Principal William Van Winkle as the most serious offenders — were suspended for the rest of the week.

Van Winkle said he arrived at school yesterday to find ice plants strewn across the playground, gravel loosened from the roof, and words written on the cement.

"I have the interest of the school and the remainder of the students at heart. We have 525 students here and very little trouble," said Van Winkle.

"But if I treat this matter lightly it will not be a good example to the rest. I cannot allow a breakdown of respect for other people's property.

"The damage was not malicious. It was thoughtlessness and these children should have it brought home to them."

He said he spent most of yesterday investigating the incident and found between 15 and 20 children were involved. About five were pupils at Miller Creek School and their names have been passed on to the principal there, said Van Winkle.

Mrs. Gloria Erickson, mother of one of the boys suspended for a week, said today she objected to the form of punishment, "although I admit the boy was wrong in doing what he did."

She said: "My son needs all the time he can get in school."

Newsmen Do Not Seek Special License Plates

Back in the 1965 session of the State Legislature, a bill was introduced to provide for special "News" automobile license plates for radio, television and newspaper photographers and reporters. It was killed, following vigorous opposition from the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

A similar bill, introduced in this session, deserves the same fate. The current measure is AB-246 (Willie Brown, D-San Francisco), which calls for issuance of special license plates with the word "News" added to the plate.

News reporters and cameramen make every attempt to reach the scene of a news story in the quickest possible time so as not to miss the essentials of a fast-breaking event. But they do so as members of the public, albeit a bit more aggressively than the normal bystander because of the nature of the job.

In most cases, a news reporter or cameraman is personally acquainted with firemen, police and highway patrolmen and has no trouble getting to the scene of the story. Because of mutual respect for each others' responsibilities built up through experience, officials seldom interfere with legitimate snapping of photographs and taking of notes, just so the official investigation is not hindered in any way.

By the same token, the news media exercise care in not interfering with the functions of the particular law enforcement agency in charge at the scene.

This working relationship of mutual trust and respect has served adequately over the years. There is no need for the issuance of special "news" plates to give one segment of the public special privilege or prestige over the others.

In fact, such action would be contrary to the principle under which the working press operates and may even encourage the amateur "reporter" and "photographer" to obtain such plates for their own satisfaction.

Legitimate newsmen operate on the principle that they have no more and no less access to news events than the public at large.

A provision for special plates for different occupations could open the way for endless requests by different professions. Why not special plates for doctors, lawyers, clergy, teachers, highway crews, ad infinitum?.

Another measure introduced last month in the State Senate, SB-360, seeks special license plates for the Coast Guard Auxiliary. There would be no limit to the special interest groups that would seek similar treatment, if such special plates were to be allowed.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy had originally intended to co-author the "news" license plate in the Senate. But he wisely decided against such legislation.

We trust that AB-246 will be killed, just as the previous measure was in 1965.

ADVICE FOR DROWSY DRIVERS

Sleepy motorists are a major cause of highway smash-ups, say traffic safety experts.

Researchers listed these symptoms:

* Nodding, yawning, blinking or talking loudly.

* Nervous tapping on steering wheel or dashboard.

* Driving close to cars ahead, then braking suddenly.

* Muscle spasms, sudden jerking of steering wheel.

Any passengers spotting these danger signals should induce the driver to stop at the first opportunity, experts say. They also advise that the motorist slowly roll his head in a circle three times, then three times in the reverse direction.

After that, the driver should take several deep breaths, exhaling through tightly drawn lips by short bursts, to force oxygen into inner lungs to restore energy.

Drivers motivated by a sturdy respect for the safety of other people—as well as their own—usually take reasonable precautions. By doing this, they help relate God's holy will to everyday life.

"None of us lives to himself, and none of us dies to himself." (Romans 14:7)

May I always think, speak and act in a manner worthy of You, O Lord.

Professors Howl About Budget Cuts—And Who Is Responsible?

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Educators who vociferously have opposed university and state college tuition, as well as budget cuts for higher learning, may not realize it, but they have done much to dispel public confidence in the state's educational system.

FUNDAMENTALLY, the primary purpose of education is to instruct young people in the art of living, which includes raising the intelligence quotient of the population so it may live better and cope with emergencies.

One of the processes in the art of living is accepting the bitter with the sweet.

Until now, education and educators in California have had the sweet. Average salaries for teachers are the highest in the nation. Virtually all requests for educational facilities have been or are being met. Unlike the average citizen, who can expect two or three weeks vacation during the year, professors and teachers have three months.

Added are sabbatical years to improve knowledge for the benefit of those they teach.

Theoretically, at least, the finest brain-power in California is in the teaching profession. Taxpayers have spent millions of dollars to make the facilities available for many degrees above and beyond the normal awards that go with a college education.

How have the professors repaid an indulgent public? Not with gratitude, which is about all the public asks, but with marches, demands, booing and hissing, and insults to the governor of the state, along with proposals on their placards to "tax the rich."

UNLIKE OLIVER TWIST, who wanted more because he still was hungry, the educators with full stomachs ask for more to gorge themselves at the expense of the taxpayers.

Although supposedly endowed with superior thinking processes, they have failed to accept the facts of life, among which are the state indebtedness and alarming deficits. This unhealthy financial situation cannot be corrected without additional burdens on the producers, who in the final analysis, no matter what administration, is in office, are responsible for the bills.

IT IS, THEREFORE, not unreasonable to ask how educators with their demanding attitude can transmit the principles of responsibility to the youth of the state when they themselves refuse the facts?

In a few short years, students become full-fledged citizens. How can they accept responsibility when their instructors promote the idea that education is handed out on a silver platter.

Tuition Defended By Novato Reader

Editor, Independent-Journal:

About the issue on tuition at State Colleges. Yes, there should be tuition as it would help eliminate those who go just to goof off or beat the draft. And there are some of these. They holler that it is their college. It is the tax payers' college as they are keeping it open for the ungrateful people.

As Governor Reagan said for those that "sincerely" want to go to college and can't afford it can pay the tuition after they graduate.

I wholeheartedly agreed with J. W. Schute that it is stupid if the colleges don't get their way they will strike. And they need us, the taxpayers, but WE don't need them. What would they do if we, the taxpayers, went on strike for paying taxes?

Shoreline Highway Freeway Is Opposed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It may be that the shoreline route in Marin is hazardous, because of its steep grades and sharp winding curves which follow pretty much the natural curves of the steep mountainous terrain. It is precisely this aspect of the area which attracts more people to come view the spectacular.

In all our discussions about the need for a less hazardous route, I feel that more emphasis is needed on responsibility of the drivers. There are, no doubt, things which could be done to improve the route to cut down the accident rate, but perhaps drivers entering this hazardous driving area should be stopped and either produce some evidence that they live on the route or be handed a leaflet containing (1) current accident figures, (2) a stern warning to obey speed limit signs, and (3) a precaution to inexperienced or drinking drivers that they are travelling at a much greater risk to themselves and others on the road on this particular stretch. Perhaps the latter should be even prohibited from driving the route.

It would be an interesting study, if this were possible, to really discover how many accidents along this route could have been avoided if more care and alertness had been applied by drivers involved. It would seem a foregone conclusion that people would know greater care must be taken on entering such a route. But perhaps newcomers need reminding.

We must also remember that any attempt to widen and smooth out such a route is bound to cut into the beauty of the natural surroundings. Assurances that the Division of Highways has a plan which will not "thoroughly butcher the natural beauty" still leaves the implication that there will be partial butchering. Both ecological and aesthetic effects must be weighed considerably before any kind of "improvement" is undertaken.

Consular Treaty Opposition Urged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Soviet Consular Treaty which will be subject to ratification vote by the U. S. Senate within several days, clearly provides (in Article 2) for opening of new Soviety (communist) consulates in America.

The most obvious danger from the treaty, as FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has repeatedly warned, is provision for "diplomatic immunity." Such immunity(1) is not encompassed in any of the consular treaties between the U. S. and 33 other nations, and (2) grants to Soviet personnel complete immunity from arrest, together with denying our entry into the consulates to rescue refugees from communism or to look for evidence. An increase in Red espionage . . . even sabotage . . . is thus invited, since the Treaty also forbids inspection of any baggage or equipment brought in as "diplomatic pouch."

The alleged protection to U. S. citizens traveling in Russia does not guarantee a fair trial or constitutional rights. The treaty instead provides merely that those imprisoned may have visiting rights by our consular official.

The question is whether our State Department should be permitted to continue its increasingly soft-on-communism attitude or whether enough senators will become informed on this vicious treaty and refuse ratification. Those who enjoy freedom would be well advised to immediately write or wire Senators Murphy and Kuchel on this matter, demanding a strong stand against ratification of the Soviet Consular Treaty.

Catholic Agency Has Thanks For Officials

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A public word of thanks to sheriff deputies and to Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom and the members of his department who responded to the fire at Catholic Social Service on Feb. 19. They performed as professionals: with dispatch and skill, with concern and patience.

We sincerely hope that the person who set the fire turns himself in or is apprehended so that he might receive the help he needs to work through the problems that influenced him to set the fire.

Finally, thanks to the person who turned in the alarm, our wonderful neighbors and all those who have called or stopped by to wish us well and offer their help. With their assistance we were able to continue our counselling uninterrupted and will be in full operation at our main office in a few days.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

RUSSELL BAKER, the American journalist, had a disturbing experience aboard an express train in Yugoslavia. Unable to speak or even understand one word of the native language, he was enraged when a burly railroad guard blocked his way to the train diner — shouting something unintelligible the while. Baker finally lost his temper completely, shoved the guard violently aside, and strode triumphantly into the dining car.

After he had been served his luncheon, he understood why the guard had tried to keep him out. The food was horrible. The guard, with the best intentions in the world, had merely been trying to warn him.

MRS. LYNDON B. Johnson saw an item she liked in a big Washington department store recently and ordered it sent to the White House. "What's that address again?" asked the saleslady, obviously unaware of her customer's identity. "1600 Pennsylvania Avenue," said Ladybird Johnson, smiling. "The saleslady asked, "What apartment?"

Romney Criticizes Vietnam War But Refuses To Be Specific

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney has finished a seven-day western speaking trip that still leaves him looking skimpy on new ideas or even positive ones on the war in Vietnam.

But when his tour was over — a tour obviously calculated to see what kind of reaction he got from Republican voters — he left little doubt he was satisfied or that he wanted his party's presidential nomination.

AS USUAL, the liking for Romney seems more rooted in his personality than any ideas he had to offer. On Vietnam, in particular, his ideas were, and still are, practically zero.

Last July at the governors' conference in Los Angeles he was asked to express himself on Vietnam and then proceeded to ramble, weave and stumble until the result was undecipherable.

At that time he wound up by saying "there are no simple answers" and admitting "I have failed to take a clear-cut position one way or the other . . . ah, I just . . . the President hasn't, either. If he hasn't, I don't see why a governor should.

AFTER THAT it was reported Romney and his advisers thought that before he started talking again in the field of foreign affairs, especially Vietnam, he ought to bone up on the problems. He remained quiet on them a long time.

But he started again on this trip, attacking President Johnson's handling of the war as "clumsy, ill-timed and poorly coordinated." He didn't say how but he did say it was a mistake to get involved in a land war in Asia.

Then he added: "But, since we're still there, we have to see it through." He did not criticize Johnson for resuming the bombing of North Vietnam but later he accused the Johnson administration of "expediency" in handling the war.

The day after that he ducked a question which tried to pin him down. He was asked how the administration was being politically expedient in Vietnam and would he give an example.

HE SAID "No, I will not." Asked why he would not, he replied "Because I choose not to." Then he was asked, "Do you mean you are making a charge without substantiating it?" Romney answered "At this point, yes."

Just a few days before he started his trip through western states on Feb. 17, two public opinion polls — Gallup and Harris — gave conflicting reports on how Republican voters felt about him as a presidential prospect.

GALLUP SAID former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was their top choice as the best candidate. Harris said Republicans and independents preferred Romney over Nixon.

The enthusiastic response Romney got around the country after he won a third term as governor last November was enough to put presidential notions in any politician's head but Romney would not admit he was a candidate.

Then the trip began, with Romney still describing himself as a noncandidate and saying he had not made up his up his mind about his political future.

HE GOT A GOOD reaction and midway through the trip a Romney for President Committee was formed to sound out Republican sentiment nationally about his running in 1968.

The committee, with headquarters in Washington, will be headed by Leonard W. Hall, former chairman of the GOP National Committee and campaign manager for Nixon when the latter tried for the presidency in 1960.

At trip's end Romney was asked if he thought his chances for the nomination now looked good enough for him to try for it. He said, "Well, favorable enough to keep up the hot courtship."

This was more positive, although not fully positive, than he had been before.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

How Bobby's Ready To Grab For No. 1

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—There is a deliberate and purposeful reason behind Sen. Robert Kennedy's aggressive headline grabbing and anti-Johnson sharpshooting.

The 41-year-old New Yorker is operating on the theory that there is a good chance the President will not seek another term, and is doing his utmost to put himself in a position to blitz the 1968 nomination.

This is a calculated risk, Kennedy deems it a gamble well worth taking in the belief he has everything to win and little to lose.

If the President does decide to run again, Kennedy will not oppose him. He is fully aware that an incumbent President cannot be denied renomination if he's bent on it. President Truman decisively demonstrated that in 1948.

If Johnson runs Kennedy will pull in his horns, fade into the background and start planning for 1972.

Much as the President might disapprove of his younger and ambitiously aspiring rival, Kennedy is convinced there is little he can do against him because he can't afford to antagonize Kennedy devotees.

IF THE PRESIDENT BOWS out, due to impaired health, a continuing and increasingly costly Vietnam war, of other decisive factors, Kennedy will be ready and waiting to make the most of it.

This is a simplification of a very complex and volatile situation. It's studded with ifs and maybes. Much can happen in the next 16 months, when the Democratic convention meets, and doubtless will.

This explains why the power-minded New York senator has let it be known he will shortly make a widely fanfared speech on the Vietnam war.

ALREADY, HIS ever busy publicity minions have leaked word he will advocate halting the bombing of North Vietnam and criticize other aspects of the Administration's conduct of the conflict. Cannily, he will carefully be neither dovish nor hawkish. He will be critical but not stridently so.

That's what Kennedy did in his speech last month challenging Johnson policy toward Red China. While not directly assailing it, Kennedy did so round-about by advocation a let's-be-friends-with-Peking course.

JUST HOW HE would do that, Kennedy carefully did not say. He is markedly vague on details in all his declamations and pronouncements.

It is an absolutely safe bet Kennedy will say nothing in his forthcoming speech about these highly pertinent facts: When his brother took office in January 1961, the U.S. had less than 1,000 officers and noncoms in Vietnam strictly as military advisers. But by the time of his death in November 1963, the U.S. had more than 20,000 combat troops there, and planning was well advanced for large-scale naval and air reinforcements.

Chief "whiz-kid" Kennedy lieutenats are Adam Walinsky, 30, Peter Edelman, 29, and Frank Mankiewicz, 40. Walinsky, who makes no bones about having ties with the so-called "new left," does most of the work on Kennedy's foreign policy speeches. Edelman, like Walinsky an attorney, is occupied mainly with domestic affairs. Mankiewicz, one-time Hollywood lawyer, is in charge of press relations.

SENATE REPUBLICAN Leader Everett Derksen, Illinois, who was 71 last month and is still recovering from a broken hip last year, is hinting to close friends he may not run for re-election next year. Pennsylvania's liberal Democratic Sen. Joseph Clark is certain to have powerful Democratic opposition if he tries for another term next year. Already an organization titled Alliance to Beat Clark has been set up. Leader of this state-wide group is Elden Magaw, assistant dean of Temple University Law School . . . Junius Griffin, public relations director of Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will join the staff of the Republican National Committee to organize the Negro vote.

Geologist For Slope Study Brings Favorable Response

A friend of mine, who was expecting out-of-town houseguests did what most housewives do. She took that opportunity to give the house a thorough cleaning—from the top to the bottom. It seems that all the housewives that I have known want to go all over their houses before they have company.

WELL, THIS friend was really going at it strong. She enlisted the aid of her children and husband. When they got to the part of moving out the refrigerator to clean behind and under it, her 8-year-old daughter piped up:

"Mommy, is she even going to look under there?"

My recent column item about Marin County hiring a geologist instead of soils engineers for testing slopes before allowing construction on some of the slopes in Marin County, drew considerable comment. All of the comments, except one, from a soils testing firm, were very much in favor of such an idea. In fact, some people were very emphatic about wanting the idea put across.

As could be expected, much of the comment came from the San Anselmo area. Some came even from as far north as Petaluma where there are comment that that city, which is just beginning to build in the hills, should look to geologists to determine the stability of the slopes.

AT THE LAST Novato Unified School District board meeting, Asst. Supt. Eugene De Brecht was asking for a reconfirmation of a resolution passed a year ago.

He explained that the board had agreed to allow the Novato Sanitary District to go through Hill Junior High School property with an easement for a sewer line. Because, technically the State of California owns all of the schools in Novato since it is a state aided district, the request went on to the state.

The state came back and asked how much it could get for it. Then the sanitary district agreed to pay $740 for the easement. This was approved by the state. The state then asked that the whole thing be redone legally so that it could be advertised and a public hearing set. That was what De Brecht was asking for.

"IT IS JUST a reconfirmation of your earlier action," he said.

Trustee William Schneeflock looked up with a smile on his face.

"I suppose you'll sprinkle it because it is a reconfirmation?" he asked.

Only about five or six in a room full of about 30 people caught the joke.

Two Sentenced In Theft Case

Harmon Francis Heath, 23, and Michael Gerald Nougier, 24, were given 90 days each in county jail and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court for second degree burglary of the Marshall summer home of Mrs. H. A. Struthers of Oakland last Dec. 3.

Heath, of 667 Olive Avenue, Novato, and Nougier, of Sonoma, had pleaded guilty Dec. 29.

Two co-defendants, James Owen Calkins, also of 667 Olive Avenue, and Delbert Francis Worden, of Cain Lane, Novato, were placed on a year's probation and given suspended five-day jail terms last Thursday on guilty pleas to petty theft in the same incident. They originally were charged with burglary.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Life Among The Junior Bonds Must Really Be An Amazing Thing

NOTHING BETTER illustrates the myopia of our conservatives and the clear vision of our liberals than their diverse reactions to the expose of some extra-curricular activities of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The short-sighted rightist is dismayed by the intimation that CIA has contributed to the American Newspaper Guild and, in his unrealistic fear of government control, finds this a menace to the freedom of the press. He even wonders if such alleged donations, provided under a Democratic administration, would not account for much of the anti-Goldwater bias shown by so many working reporters during the 1964 campaign.

BUT THE LIBERAL keeps his eye on the ball and is not distracted by such red herrings. So, in a Sunday resume of the exposure in a local liberal paper—now nobly trying to atone for its conservative past and doing an excellent job of it—I find no mention whatever of the above charge.

Instead, it devotes its two columns to the chief worry of liberals: that the CIA, by giving money to the National Student Assn., thus subverted academic freedom, already reeling under the blow of President Clark Kerr's ouster from U.C. This new shock may prove the coup de grace that ends a great American tradition.

As one student put it, "Our whole credibility has been based on the image that we were independent and left liberals. Now everything we do or have done will be tainted."

YOU, DEAR READER, may not realize how much of the warp and woof of our higher education lies in NSA. I did my own Gallup Poll on it and only four out of 21 recognized the initials—and that only, as they admitted, because of the current headlines.

But that doesn't alter its importance, any more than your inability to describe the theory of relativity downgrades Einstein. The NSA is the very cream of high-minded students—and it has chapters on some 300 campuses—who meet with students from other lands for serious discussions about Life and then issue pronouncements eagerly awaited by scholars.

And don't judge by mere numbers. When the authorities at the University of Washington were distributed by student apathy and called a meeting to discuss the subject, only 20 — out of a potential 26,000 — showed up. But surely this handful represents the elite, the future Hubert Humphreys and Jacob Javitses, the Stokely Carmichaels and Mario Savios who will one day guide America. And of such is the NSA composed.

TO PLANT NASTY would-be James Bonds among them when they meet in Iron Curtain countries is plainly dirty pool. When the trusting Communists hospitably show them the location of their missile and anti-missile sites, and reveal the number of submarines they have, they certainly do not expect their confidence to be betrayed.

How could they dream that among those they trusted would lurk a Junior 007 who would report to the CIA what he had seen—such as:

"NO, I DIDN'T KNOW what they were talking about, because I don't understand Russian or Polish or Outer Mongolian. But a Tass man interpreted for us and all they want is peace.

"They seem pretty progressive: Moscow has a subway and I danced the frug with a girl who wore a mini. The beer isn't too bad. We held one meeting at the university, but they don't allow demonstrations there yet. They did, however, take us to one where the students threw bottles at the U.S. Embassy and broke 170 windows. That was kinda fun, but, of course, it was no Berkeley."

NOW I DO NOT say that such first-hand reports, obtained by eager beavers on a guided tour, are not infinitely valuable to us in trying to fathom the Kremlin mind. And the cost to the CIA—a mere $200,000 per annum to NSA spies—is insignificant compared to the priceless top-drawer secret information our junior James Bonds have uncovered.

Yet the question remains whether the end justified the means. And how would we like it if Russia, in revenge, should suddenly begin spying on us?

Sanity Trial Scheduled In Kidnaping

A four-day sanity trial for Ronald Harold Berg, 21, charged with kidnaping, armed robbery, escape, concealing stolen property and being a felon in possession of weapons, is scheduled in Marin Superior Court for the week of March 27.

The sanity trial is on a defense motion made last Dec. 19 that Berg, serving five years to life at California Training Facility at Soledad for the Aug. 17 armed robbery of Edgewood Inn Motel in Corte Madera, is mentally unable to cooperate with his attorney, Theodore C. Lachalt of San Rafael, and cannot stand trial.

Berg and Lewis Barton Pettijohn Jr., 33, escaped from county jail Nov. 23 and allegedly kidnaped and robbed cab driver Bruce Hall, 35, of Forest Knolls, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Jorgensen and their son, Larry, of 510 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

Jury trial for Pettijohn on the escape, kidnap and robbery charges begins April 18. He also faces a March 13 trial for allegedly passing a worthless check on June 4, 1964.

California's San Joaquin Valley usually produces more raisins annually than the rest of the world combined, says the California Raisin Advisory Board.

Sentencing Slated In Forgery Case

Raymond Edward Brooks, 19, of Redwood Valley, Mendocino County, will be sentenced in Marin Superior Court at 9:30 a.m. March 20 for forgery of a $60 check.

Brooks forged the check Nov. 1 in San Rafael with intent to defraud Sophie J. Powell of Corte Madera. He pleaded guilty.

THIS LOOKS LIKE A GALLON OF APPLE JUICE

and it FEELS like a gallon, too. But it's NOT a gallon. A gallon contains 128 ounces of apple juice, and this look-alike, feel-alike jug contains only 99 ounces . . . one-fourth less apple juice than a REAL gallon jug holds.

This is just the sort of consumer information Co-op Marin's home economist, Nancy Bratt (shown hefting the juice jug) has at her fingertips.

Nancy will be on duty at Co-op Marin when it opens in Corte Madera in March, answering all your questions on how to get the best value for your food dollar and the best nutrition for your family's good health.

She's a graduate home economist . . . lives in Mill Valley . . . is president of Homestead School PTA.

Now about that look-alike, feel-alike gallon of apple juice, Nancy advises, "To get a REAL gallon, be sure you read the label on the jug."

East won the first trick with the ace of spades, and South dropped the king in the hope of persuading East that the spades were wide open.

East knew that his partner had led his fourth-highest spade and that South therefore started with three spades higher than the fourspot.

If South could afford to spare the king of spades, his other cards were the queen and jack of spades.

EAST PLOTS

After some thought East shifted to the eight of hearts. South played the nine, and West followed with the ten.

South played a low heart from dummy, allowing West to hold the trick.

This didn't stop the defense. West continued with the king of hearts, and South had to take this with dummy's ace.

Now there was no side entry to the diamonds, West refused the first two diamond tricks, and South could get only two tricks in each suit.

Down one.

BETTER CHANCE

South's play of the king of spades was so obviously phony that it steered East in the right direction.

If South was so desperately trying to appear weak in spades, it had to be wrong for East to continue the suit.

An expert East might switch to hearts no matter which spade South played at the first trick, but against and average opponent South would have a better chance if he played the jack or queen of spades.

East might lead another spade on the assumption that South was "unblocking" with Q-J-x of spades.

If East failed to knock out the ace of hearts, South would make the contract easily because he could use the ace of hearts as the entry to the diamonds.

He would make four diamonds, two spades, two clubs, and one heart.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 10 6 3
♥ A 3 2
♦ K Q 9 8 5
♣ 5 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

The hand is not quite good enough for response of two diamonds, but is slightly too good for a response of one notrump.

The raise is slightly more encouraging than a response of one notrump, and should therefore be preferred.

On this day in history:

In 1849, the California, the first ship to carry gold seekers to California, arrived at San Francisco by way of Cape Horn.

In 1933, the government of Adolph Hitler issued a decree suppressing civil liberties in Germany.

In 1942, Japanese forces landed on Java, the last Allied bastion in the Netherlands East Indies.

TELEVISION REVIEW

NBC Signs Jerry Lewis For Series

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Jerry Lewis, whose last television series was one of the medium's more spectacular failures, will give the weekly video grind another try in the coming season.

He has been signed by NBC-series and to be guided by TV for a one-hour Friday night Robert Finkel, whose credits include the Andy Williams show and who is regarded as one of television's most commercially successful producers.

Many observers in the industry are curious as to whether Lewis, who rules completely over every phase of his movies, will actually allow anyone except himself to be the sole boss of his new series.

His last weekly television entry, a live two-hour Saturday night show, disappeared quickly from another network, ABC-TV, after one of the biggest buildups ever given a new video program.

The comedian, who has long advocated the excitement of live television, unfortunately, at the time, gave the impression that the programs had little preparation and that he felt all he had to do was to show up and everyone would be satisfied. The ratings sank quickly.

One of the offshoots of the failure, however, was that the Lewis series was replaced by "The Hollywood Palace," which has turned out to be one of television's most steadily professional and enjoyable shows, and will be back again next season.

There are those in show business who feel that one of the unspoken reasons for Lewis' latest series effort is the big television success of his former comedy partner, Dean Martin, with whom he split years ago. Martin used to be the straight man.

But just last week, the latest national television ratings ranked Martin's one-hour NBC variety series as the No. 1 show. If Martin, who is sure to return next season, retains his current slot in the NBC schedule, it will mean that the network will present his program on Thursdays and Lewis' on Fridays, Hollywood being the kind of town that it is, there are bound to be weekly comparisons, and Martin is a tough act to follow.

Meeting Changed

Mill Valley Chess Club of Marin has changed its weekly meetings from Friday at 8 p.m. at 26 Miller Avenue to Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Community and Youth Center on Sycamore Avenue, reported club president L. A. Post.

Kentfield Teachers' Raise Bid Countered

The Kentfield School District board last night asked the Kentfield Teachers' Association to consider a 3.5 per cent salary raise for the 1967-68 school year. The teachers had asked a 9 per cent boost.

The board suggested a pay range of $5,900 to $11,800, which would cost the district an additional $20,500.

Mogens Ring of the county public works department told trustees that if the Army Corps of Engineers plan for a concrete channel in Corte Madera Creek is followed, the project should be completed up to Kentfield by the 1968-69 school year.

The board told Ring and other county representatives that the district does not want the project to take any school property. Present plan calls for the channel to cut across a small corner of Adaline E. Kent School. The engineers said the plan could probably be revised, according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

The Kentfield School District board also:

TEACHING REQUEST—Granted Greenbrae School Principal Roy L. Smith's request for permission to teach at Sonoma State College this summer.

PLAYGROUNDS — Revised district policy to provide that children should not remain at school after classes where playgrounds are not supervised.

ASSISTANTS — Hired June Farson as Wolfe Grade School kindergarten assistant at $2.25 an hour, and Winifred Raglund as noon supervisor at Kent School at $2 an hour.

GIFT—Accepted Dr. and Mrs. Richard Schneider's gift of a filmstrip projector for Greenbrae School.

The first American zoo was organized in 1859.

Apollo Crewmen Rescue Out, Expert Thinks

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The three Apollo astronauts killed last month at Cape Kennedy could not have been saved even if ground crews had been fully alert to fire hazards, the space agency has concluded.

George E. Mueller, head of manned spaceflight for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, reported this yesterday as he and other top NASA officials briefed the Senate Space Committee on progress so far in investigating the tragedy.

Mueller testified that pressure inside the Apollo cabin grew so intense so rapidly that neither the astronauts nor technicians outside could have forced open the hatch, before the crewmen were overcome by smoke inhalation.

NASA officials conceded in a previous report on the investigation of a special accident review board that "alertness to the possibility of fire had become dulled by previous ground experience and six yers of successful manned missions."

Federal Grant Is Delayed For Sausalito's Schools

Sausalito School District's application for a $130,000 grant under the 1964 Civil Rights Act has been deferred to July, Supt. Phillip W. Schneider reported last night to trustees.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare advised the district that the act's education funds "have dried up" for this fiscal year, Schneider said. The grant was sought to develop language arts and social studies programs.

Sausalito School District trustees also:

GUIDANCE — Applied to the federal government for a $10,000 grant to operate guidance centers.

REPORT CARDS—Heard from Mrs. Marilyn Burns, seventh grade teacher at Richardson Bay School, that parents' reactions were favorable to new report card forms for fifth through eighth grades. The new cards replace grades with descriptions of a students' progress in each class.

RESIGN — Accepted resignation, due to illness, of Delpha Jensen, first grade teacher at Bayside School.

SALARY — Appointed Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith to the salary committee.

Planners Back Expansion Permit

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved expansion of the Peacock Restaurant to an adjacent building at 1628 Grant Avenue, and granted owner Walter J. Del Rose an adjustment for less than the required number of parking places.

The commission continued all other items on the agenda. Continued until March 13 was consideration of the proposed sign ordinance. Continued indefinitely was the request of Albert Young for a muffler shop in a small building behind the Viking Club facing First Street.

The commission agreed to meet with the city council on March 8.

Behr's Transit Idea Favored

San Anselmo Homes Association directors last night endorsed "in principle" Marin County Supervison Peter H. Behr's proposal for a bus transit system on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way from Corte Madera to Waldo Grade.

The directors urged that the system be extended to San Rafael "if economically feasible."

Director William Clark reported on plans for an association-sponsored candidates' night for trustee candidates in the Tamalpais High School and San Anselmo school districts, and possibly Marin Junior College Districts to be held April 13 in the Isabel Cook School auditorium at 8 p.m.

The directors voted to donate $75 to the Congress for Community Progress.

WHAT'S SO DIFFERENT about the CO-OP?

What's so different is that the families who shop at the Co-op own the Co-op.

And because they own it, what they really want in goods and services comes first. What Co-op member-owners want—and get—is free child care while mothers shop . . . a free home economist service . . . their own Federal credit union . . . as well as top quality groceries at family budget prices.

Seven East Bay Co-ops—and a new one in Corte Madera in March.

Five Unanimous Picks For All-League Cage Team

Drake's surging league champions landed two players on the first team of the 1967 All-Marin County Athletic League basketball team picked by MCAL coaches last night.

Six-six center Jerry Sprout, an all-league tackle in football,and sharp-shooting forward Chet Carlisle were named to the elite team along with the top three scorers in the MCAL.

Terra Linda's deadeye forward Fred Smith, the loop's top scorer with a 19.5 average, Tamalpais guard Steve Woodward No. 2 scorer in the league, and Redwood's reliable guard Andre Horn, the third-best scorer in the league, were also named to the team.

The five seniors were all unamious choices.

San Rafael, which tied for third in league play with Redwood, landed its pressing duo of guards Rich Schau and Roger Widmer on the second team. Redwood forward Jack Fitzhenry filled one forward spot while the only juniors to crack the lineup were Pat Schafer of Tamalpais at center and Ches Bornia of Marin Catholic at forward.

Honorable mention honors went to three seniors. They were San Rafael forward Mike Donahoo, Terra Linda guard Paul Lee and Marin Catholic guard Paul Vickers.

Redwood's runnerup Class B team placed two players on the All-League B team with Roger Smith, brother of Russ Smith, an all-leaguer last year and starting guard at College of Marin this year, and senior Jim Kosta being named to the team. Also picked were Drake guard J. C. (Curry) Miller, Terra Linda center John Thibodeaux and San Rafael forward Phil Martino.

Martino, Miller and Thibodeaux are juniors while Smith is the only freshman to crack the first team.

Named to the second team were four sophomores and a freshman. They were Gene Barnes of Novato, the only freshman and sophomores Dave Alvarado of Drake, Skip Corsini of Redwood, Mike Murray of Marin Catholic and Pat Purcell of Terra Linda.

Receiving honorable mention were Dave D'Artnay of Marin Catholic, Larry Mason of Terra Linda and Ron Small of Tamalpais.

Sprout and Carlisle were the key scorers in Drake's drive to a second straight championship, sparking the Pirates to a 11-1 loop mark.

Carlisle, a second team pick last year was the No. 4 scorer in the league and the top Pirate scorer. Sprout, who got off to a late start, took command of the backboards for the Pirates and was an imposing threat on defense. He scored the winning points in Drake's title inching, one-point victories over Tamalpais and Marin Catholic.

Woodward, an all-league choice last year and the only repeater on the first team, was the Indian's most consistent scorer in their bid for a title that fell short in a second half collapse. He and Redwood's Horn never fell below double-figure scoring through league play. Horn also displayed superb ballhandling talents and a knack for second half comebacks.

Smith helped make the Trojans a giant-killer especially on their home court as Terra Linda finished with a 6-6 league record, including a 70-51 romp over Tamalpais in which he scored 25 points. Smith poured in 25 points on four occasions and 20 or more points seven times in 12 league games.

No Humor In Red, But Quite A Few Victories

Arnold (Red) Auerbach was born in Brooklyn of Jewish parents, ate Chinese food, drank Coke for breakfast, collected letter openers, lived like a monk apart from his wife nine months of the year and saw absolutely nothing funny about life.

WHICH WAS A PITY because, by some standards, his life was hilarious.

He directed all his life drive to winning an annual professional basketball championship which is the athletic version of collecting letter openers. And he's not the least bit defensive about it. "I didn't have to be a basketball coach, you know," he said. "My father had a dry cleaning business."

"RED'S SENSE OF humor stood him in good stead," a friend observed. "He didn't have any."

Red saw his career as one long walk through enemy territory armed only with purity of heart. It's set forth in poker-faced detail in his new book "Winning The Hard Way — Basketball's Greatest Coach Tells His Story" which you can get for $5.95.

There are those who say Red's success can be summed up in two words—"Bill Russell," that he insured himself of instant immortality the day he signed the majestic San Francisco center to a $19,500 contract.

IF SO, RED'S LIFE has been a study in waste motion. Since then he has (1) racked up an all-time league high of $17,000 in fines; (2) socked the owner of the St. Louis Hawks in the jaw; (3) walked his team off the court; (4) loosened more teeth than sugar slugging private citizens; and (5) publicly condemned the league, the league president, the officials, press, rival owners, his own owner and every institution short of the Congress of the United States with equal fervor and conviction. He had all the social graces of the Bowery Boys.

ON THE PLUS side, he (1) quietly brought the first Negro into the NBA; (2) fumingly held up a game in Yugoslavia one night until the hosts came up with an American flag to go with the Communist ones on the rafters (on the same trip he blasted the U.S. Ambassador to Egypt for not greeting the team —"President Johnson and Dean Rusk saw us off, why can't this creep phone us up? I have to say we got some real phonies in the diplomatic service." His Excellency was glad to get back to people who merely stoned the Embassy after a word from Red).

He led the league in lawsuits. People holding their jaws were constantly showing up at the desk sergeant's demanding a warrant. He got a technical foul the afternoon they gave him a ceremony for his 1,000th win. He got kicked out of the game at the All-Star contest in San Francisco when he came out of retirement for one night.

HIS FIRST BOOK, "Basketball For the Player, the Fan, and the Coach," contained some of the most practical advice this side of "How to Rob a Bank." You had to think the YMCA didn't have THIS in mind when they invented the game: (1) "grabbing or pulling the pants or shirt of an opponent can be very aggravating"; (2) "place the scorer's and timer's table near YOUR bench"; (3) "when the other team is given possession of the ball, don't throw the ball directly to an opponent. The ball should be thrown rather slowly to the official. This will give your men time to get set on defense"; (4) "if the opposing team has a high scorer, keep reminding the other players of their uselessness."

HE HAD A STRICT policy against socializing with any of the Celtics' wives during the season—and this included Mrs. Auerbach, who lived in Washington in season while Mr. Auerbach lived in Boston. He got home for Christmas ONCE in 20 years. His daughters not only didn't believe in Santa Claus, they were a little suspicious of that fable about DAD.

THE BETTING WAS heavy there wouldn't be a sniffle in the room when Red retired but William Felton Russell, himself, arose to say: "When I took this job, somebody said, 'What did you take it for? You got nothing to gain. You got to follow Red Auerbach.'

"I don't think I'm going to be another Red Auerbach. Personally, I think you're the greatest basketball coach that ever lived. You know, over the years . . . I heard a lot of coaches and writers say the only thing that made you a great coach was Bill Russell. It helped. But that's not what did it.

"NOW, THIS IS KIND of embarrassing, but I'll go so far, Red, as to say this: I like you. And I'll admit there aren't very many men that I like. But you I do. For a number of reasons. First of all, I've always been able to respect you. I don't think you're a genius, just an extraordinarily intelligent man. We'll be friends until one of us dies. And I don't want too many friends, Red."

I know some men who have to make do with a lot less epitaph than that.

Litchfield's Knocked Out Of Top Spot

Litchfield's San Rafael Braves semi-pro baseball team has been knocked out of the San Francisco Triple A Winter League Baseball lead after a 5-3 loss to New Pisa of San Francisco Sunday at Golden Gate Park's Nealon diamond.

The New Pisa nine broke a first-place deadlock with the victory, and pinned down sole possession of the top spot, while handing the defending champs their third league loss.

Starter Ron Cole, going for his seventh win, suffered his first winter league defeat but still was impressive. He worked five innings and scattered 5 hits but his usually reliable infield collapsed in the Pisa half of the fourth.

The Marin team outhit the San Franciscans 8-5, Rich Jeffries with two singles and a double, Ron Gasper with two key singles and Dave Barni with a safety, double and two RBI's.

4 Tar Grapplers Eligible For Meet

Four College of Marin wrestlers became eligible for the North Section Junior College Wrestling Tournament at Foothill Saturday after placing in the Golden Valley Conference Tournament at Sierra last week.

Bob Czekalski and Doug Dressler, who took individual championships at 115 pounds and heavyweight, respectively, and Paul Tuttle and Gary Arthur, runnerups at 132 pounds and 160 pounds, respectively, are eligible to compete in the sectional tournament.

Sierra won the conference tournament with six individual titles with the Tars finishing second.

Marin Swimmers Set J.C. Record

A College of Marin relay team made up of Pete Brinkerhoff, John Moulder, Dennis Good and Bill Cannedy set a Northern California Junior College Record at the Northern California Swimming Relays at Cabrillo College last week.

The team, swimming in a special 250-yard mixed medley relay, splashed the distance in a record 2:16.5 clipping nearly eight seconds off the old record of 2:24.1.

Andy Heilman Wins TKO Over Collins

OAKLAND (AP)—Andy (Dakota Kid) Heilman was awarded a knockout over Nate Collins in the eighth round last night when the one-sided middleweight scrap was halted at 2:12 by referee Vern Bybee.

Heilman, 161, of Fargo, N.D., and San Pedro, could never deck the game San Franciscan but had him straggling in almost every round from the third on.

When the scheduled 10-round fight was stopped Bybee had scored 8-0 and judge Elmer Costa 10-0 for the boring-in winner. Judge Rudy Ortega had it 7-1. Heilman suffered a severe gash over his right eye in the fourth round and it bled the remainder of the way.

It was his 20th knockout victory. He has won 28 with only two losses and two draws.

For the 157-pound loser it marked the first time he had been stopped in 22 fights. Collins' record is now 12-10-0.

The attendance was 7,062 in the new Oakland arena and the gross gate $34,794.

Paul Rojas of San Pedro, No. 2 featherweight contender, scored his third knockout in four years over Ray Coleman, Phoenix, Ariz., in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round companion feature. Rojas, 133, floored the 132-poundf Coleman early in the seventh with a left hook to the head. When Coleman later was huddled against the ropes, taking a battering to the head and body, referee Elmer Costa stepped between them at 1:21 for a Rojas knockout under California rules.

Freddie Webster, 136½, Las Vegas, decked Jeff Magnun, 146, Hayward, with the first punch of their fight at two seconds. Magnun got up but went down once more from a punch then fell three times to the canvas without being struck. The fight was stopped at 1:23 of the first round of a scheduled five.

In another five-rounder Kay Lee, 175, Concord, won a split decision over Richard Steele, 173, Los Angeles.

Marichal Stays In Dominican Republic

CASA GRANDE (AP)—Manager Herman Franks sends his San Francisco Giants through their paces in Arizona while his ace pitcher manages in the Dominican Republic.

Franks will experiment with his shortstop-second base combination while his pitcher, Juan Marichal, plays second base himself on his own softball team.

Tito Fuentes at shortstop and Hal Lanier at second base provided the up-the-middle protection for San Francisco in 1966 when they finished 1½ games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League pennant race.

Fuentes hit .261 but his fielding left much to be desired and he was out of the lineup from June 18 to July 4 with a shoulder separation. The Giants wanted him to have an off-season operation to correct the problem. Fuentes demurred.

SWITCH HITTING

Lanier, who hit only .241 last year but was second in fielding among NL shortstops, worked on switch hitting in the Arizona Instructional League during the winter.

He led the loop in hits with 59 while playing shortstop with Don Mason at second base. Mason, who saw limited service with the Giants a year ago, led the instructional league in fielding at second.

Marichal, Rich Robertson and Jeses Huggins were among the absent as the Giants started spring training yesterday. Marichal wants $125,000 instead of the $90,000 offered. Robertson wants somewhat more than the Giants desire topay a rookie pitcher who was 13-6 at Phoenix last year and Huggins must report for military service.

From the Dominican Republic Marichal said, "I sent the contract back the second time, so now I wait. I told Mr. Feeney if all the contracts are going to be the same, he should stop sending them. I can't keep sending 'em back."

NO NOVELTY

Chub Feeney is general manager of the Giants and contract negotiations with Marichal are no novelty to him.

However, this time, the pitcher says he is playing second base on a softball team which he manages.

Veteran pitchers Art Mahaffey, Don Larsen and Bill Henry are seeking jobs with the Giants although not listed on the roster. Henry was with the club in 1966 but was given his release. Mahaffey is the property of the St. Louis Cardinals and Larsen pitched for the Giants' Phoenix club last year.

Norm Siebern, the veteran first baseman acquired by the Giants from the Los Angeles Angels during the winter, aggravated a leg injury in the opening workout but was able to complete the drill.

Beard Takes Lema Memorial Golf Tourney

MARCO ISLAND, Fla. (AP) — A 4-under-par 68 won the first annual Tony Lema Memorial Tournament, and $500, for golf pro Frank Beard.

Deadlocked behind him at 70 yesterday on the 6,661 yard Marco Island Country Club Course were Bob Toski, Raymond Floyd, Andy Beljan and Gay Brewer. They won $415 each.

Former vice president Richard M. Nixon was among players joining with the pros in a pro-am.

Lema, who was pro at Marco Island for a year, was killed last year in a plane crash.

Proceeds of the tourney go to the Hanna Boys Center in Sonoma.

Three Firsts For Marin Swim Club

The Marin Swim club captured three firsts and 11 seconds at the Flying Fins Class A Swim Meet last week.

Cheryl Cattan paced the Marin entries with a first in the 50-yard backstroke in the girls 10-under division, setting a Pacific Association Record in the process with a time of 33.4.

Rick Demont in the 100-yard freestyle and Robin Bachrach in the 50-yard butterfly garnered the other two Marin firsts.

Getting second places weer Misses Cattan and Bachrach, Bob Girvin, Jim Welp, Carolyn Hill and the girls 11-12 200-yard medley and freestyle relay teams made up of Kenise Ham, Ann Engel, Robin Bachrach, Reagan Wade and Sue Secondo.

Two Smiths Win Scoring Titles

Terra Linda forward Fred Smith poured in 50 points in his last two games to safely snare the Marin County Athletic League basketball scoring title by 29 points over runnerup Steve Woodward of Tamalpais.

Smith finished with 234 points in 12 games for a 19.5 average, ahead of Woodward's 205 points and 17.1 average.

Redwood guard Andre Horn was a distant third with 189 points for a 15.8 average while Drake forward Chet Carlisle with a 14.1 average and Tamalpais center Pat Schafer with a 13.8 average rounded out the top five.

Roger Smith, freshman brother of last year's varsity scoring king Russ Smith of Redwood, captured the Class B scoring title with a 13.7 average.

U. OF ILLINOIS' APPEAL ON TAP

CHICAGO (AP) — The countdown on the University of Illinois' irregular recruiting case now has started and will reach zero hour in several days.

On Thursday or Friday University President David D. Henry and legal counsel, Jim Costello, will present Illinois' appeal before the conference's faculty representatives in Chicago.

The nine representatives — Leslie Bryan of Illinois not sitting in-will hear the university present a "show cause" stand why Illinois should not be suspended or expelled from the Big Ten in declining to dismiss Football Coach Pete Elliott, Basketball Coach Harry Combes and his assistant, Howard Braun.

Conference athletic directors last week ordered that Illinois show this cause or fire the three coaches involved in the university's self-acknowledged illegal payments from a $21,000 fund.

The Associated Press learned that prior to the directors' meeting, Dr. Henry called the three coaches to his office to review alternatives. One such was for them to offer their resignations.

They rejected this and said they "will see the whole matter through to the end."

When the scandal first broke in December, Combes said he would resign if it would help the university. Nothing further was heard on this. In the meantime, the three coaches have remained silent.

Dr. Henry and the university now are determined to fight for retention of the coaches, who already have been placed on one year probation by the school.

The university also will ask for "the greatest possible ameliorative action under the rules" for seven football and four basketball players ruled ineligible for accepting aid from the fund, which was administered outside the school. Another basketball player involved has enrolled in another school.

Dr. Henry is armed with backing from alumni, the Illinois High School Coaches Association, the football squad, the Board of Directors of the Illinois Athletic Association and Gov. Otto Kerner, as well as others.

In this year of 1967, when the university is celebrating its centennial, there is strong feeling, especially through alumni petitions, that Illinois withdraw from the Big Ten rather than bow to the edict of the athletic directors.

The faculty representatives are left on the hot seat. They admit they are not bound by the athletic directors' order and will have an open mind.

But can the pattern of harshness set by the directors be overlooked? And if it is, and a softening of the penalty is voted, would that leave the door open for the National Collegiate Athletic Association to wield a big blow?

Even when the Big Ten disposes of the case, the NCAA must decide if the penalty fits the crime.

Marin A.C. Runners Triumph

Daren Walton of the Marin Athletic Club placed third behind first-place Gary Tuttle of Humboldt State last Saturday at the second annual Trinidad Beach Run, a ten-mile course near Humboldt State College.

The Marin A. C. won the team title with 40 points, outdoing five other entrants, including Humboldt, which totaled 49 points in the inverted scoring system.

Walton, a junior distance star at Novato High School, clocked 45:02 while Tuttle, the Far Western Conference cross-country champion, turned in a 43:44 to shatter the 46.15 record he set last year.

Doug Butt of Marin A. C. finished fourth behind Walton at 45:04, followed by teammates Darrell Beardall, sixth, Will Ferlattle, 13th and Bob Bunnell, the Terra Linda High junior, 14th.

Winter Steelhead Fishing Ends With Very Poor Final Weekend

STEVENS

The 1966-67 winter steelhead fishing in our tide-water streams has come to an end. Tomorrow the new angling regulations take effect.

The final weekend of steelheading was a disappointment. An estimated average of fish to fisherman was sad —hardly better than one-fifth fish to the man. So now we must look to other fields and other prey to keep our rods from wasting away. We are now in the second week of salmon fishing outside in the ocean. According to reports it continues spotty, with not much better than a fish-per-rod, but that condition can change over night. Here's hoping it does.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT date falls tomorrow when the 1967 Angling Regulations become effective. A quick glance at the new reg discloses no radical change in most of the 1966 rules, but it will pay all license holders to obtain a copy and study it. One sports club secretary told me his members are being briefed on the changes and will discuss all phases in open meeting. Seems like a good idea to me.

ANOTHER GOOD MOVE on the part of sports clubs would be the appointment of small committees to attend the National Wildlife Federation get-together March 19-25, scheduled for the San Francisco Hilton. Representatives of 49 statewide conservation organizations affiliated with the National Wildlife Federation, associate members of the San Francisco area, state and federal government officials, and other citizen conservationists are invited to attend the 31st annual meeting of the federation March 10, 11 and 12. This three-day program will feature speeches by prominent conservationists, a panel discussion, enactment of resolutions on many problems, and business meetings. All general sessions of the Federal meetings are open to the public without charge.

CONGRESSMAN DON H. CLAUSEN will discuss "Redwoods to the Sea" . . . a new conservation philosophy on Saturday morning, March 11. At noon of the same day in Ballroom 5, N. B. Livermore, administrator of the Resources Agnecy of California, will be the principel speaker .He will discuss "Trends in the economics of Wildlife Management."

Cost of the dinner will be $5.

There has been a nationwide Wildlife Week since 1938, but never before so close to home, and perhaps never more improtantly as this one. The organization, represents 2,000,000 persons in state conservations, associate members, and contributors.

Foursome Wins At Peacock Gap

The foursome of Arthur Cerf, Leo Harning, Frank Dill and Frank Barley last Saturday sliced eight strokes off par to combine for a 63 and win the annual Boss Tournament, at Peacock Gap Country Club.

The victors had no bogies, and nearly all foursomes broke into the 60's as Marty Goulson, Bob Kilgore, Sid NuDelman and Merton Jacobs split the runner-up spot with the team of Biii Cardinal, Jordan Dell'Era, Bob Crews and Boris Pash.

Colt Hurst copped the top prize in a pre-tournament putting contest, winning a playoff with Bob Abbott and Bud Farnsworth.

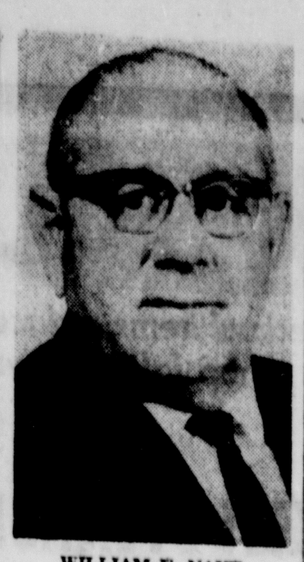
CHARLES TIJERINA
Resigns as bank head



WILLIAM F. NAVE
New bank president

Bank Chief Tijerina Succeeded By Nave

Charles Tijerina was replaced chairman of the board of Tiburon National Bank by William F. Nave of Novato at a special meeting of the directors.

Tijerina said he has been under constant doctor's care since he slipped on the wet ground in front of the bank's Alto branch about six weeks ago and suffered a severe concussion and cracked his ribs. He said the injuries have made it impossible for him to meet the heavy demands of continuing to head the bank's affairs.

A majority stockholder in the bank, Tijerina, a Belvedere resident, will continue as a director and act as an adviser and consultant.

The board also advanced vice president Perry Smith to executive vice president.

Nave, the new president, is owner of the Nave Shopping Center in Novato as well as Nave Lanes and Nero's Restaurant in Ignacio and other properties in the northern part of the county. For many years he was chief appraiser for the Marin County assessor's office. He was appointed a director of the bank in December of 1965. He is a lifelong Novato resident.

Tiburon National has its main office in Tiburon and branches in Alto, Corte Madera, Kentfield and Novato. The bank also holds a permit for another branch in Sausalito. Nave said it is still planned to open this office but no location has yet been selected.

The resignation of Tijerina, who has headed the bank since its organization in March of 1963, came within a month of the bank's annual report to stockholders showing a net loss of $210,499 in 1966, compared with a net loss of $108,202 in 1965.

For the same period, however, the bank reported assets of $9,936,247 last Dec. 31, compared with $5,480,384 at the end of 1965. Deposits of $9,110,851 compared with $4,572,849 a year previous.

The bank's stockholders, at their annual meeting two weeks ago, voted to increase the common stock by $250,000, in $10 par value shares to be sold at not less than $20 each, and to increase the board of directors from five to seven members. The additional directors have not yet been named, however. The board consists of Tijerina, Nave, Smith, William O. Weissich and Fred Mantegani.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Some Fixed Assets Should Be Switched

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am 60, married and retired. My net worth is $200,000, half of which is in second trust deeds, paying $1,300 monthly and maturing in 12 years. We have $30,000 in savings and 100 shares of Memorex Corp. Should we leave all our money in the bank or invest it? Our current income is more than enough to pay expenses." R. T.

A. Please let me congratulate you on building so fine an income for retirement. You have a very substantial proportion of your assets in trust deeds, which afford a high return but are fixed as to principal. When these mature 12 years hence, you will be faced with the problem of reinvestment at a time when the real value of your capital—its purchasing power—may be considerably less than it is today. Your savings are also fixed assets.

In your position I would put $25,000 into stocks with records of substantial and consistent growth which can enhance your capital considerably over the next 12 years. In this category I suggest American Home Products, Avon Products, Bristol-Myers, Norwich Pharmaceutical Myers, Norwich Pharmacal and Union Oil. I would hold Memorex—a California magnetic tape stock—which has built an enviable short-term record and has more than doubled in value since 1965.

Q. "My wife and I are over 65. I own $225,000 municipals; $135,000 commercial paper; $20,000 Treasuries and some stocks. How would you advise me to invest $135,000 from paper maturing this year? My health is not too good and I am looking solely for security with best income." R. C.

A. I regret sincerely that your health is not good. How you should reinvest seems to me to depend upon your income bracket, which I cannot determine from your letter. If this is sufficiently high so that your taxable equivalent yield on municipals is 5 per cent or more, I would reinvest in that medium. Otherwise, I would buy high-grade corporate bonds.

Times Mirror Co. To Buy Magazine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Times MirrorCo. will acquire Popular Science Publishing Co. agreement signed yesterday, officials of the concerns announced.

The New York firm publishes Popular Sceince and Outdoor Life magazines, and had a 1966 revenue of over $20 million.

Gains Pace Losses In Active Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed on a firm note today, having wiped out an early loss but showing gains and losses pretty evenly mixed. Trading was active.

The market declined from the start but it soon became apparent that a minority of stocks were bucking the downtrend. The number of these increased as the session wore on and by late afternoon they outnumbered losers.

Volume for the first four hours was 6.66 million shares compared with 7.57 million yesterday.

Losers outnumbered gainers by about 3-2, but this was much narrower than early in the session. The list was seen as going through a consolidation phase which was nearing the upper limits of a support area.

Spartan Industries, a fractional loser, was the most active stock.

Also active, Schenley rose about 4 and RCA, which reported record fourth-quarter profits, about 2. Up a point or better in active dealings were Dresser Industries and Thiokol while SCM Corp. rose more than 2.

IBM snapped back about 5 points.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Yarn Palette Opening Thursday; Color Center Being Remodeled

Opening Thursday at the edge of (but not in) the Strawberry Town and Country Village is The Yarn Palette, 33 Reed Boulevard—just across from Home and Land Co.

For owner Mrs. Edith M. Schneider of Sausalito it is a first in commercial ventures of this kind, though she has been using knitting needles since she was 5 or 6 years old — qualifying her to give detailed instruction in the art.

Besides instruction in knitting, charting, assembling and blocking, there will also be sales in yarns and patterns. Instruction is on an individual basis but by spring she hopes to establish classes. She also instructs in rug making and embroidery, and eventually plans to get into weaving.

REMODELING WORK is going on at the Mill Valley Color Center, 338 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley—now under the ownership of Dick Varney, formerly of Varney's Tiburon Hardware. He purchased the store a few weeks ago from Alf G. Nyquist, who has retired.

Varney is adding new lines, many in the do-it-yourself category.

ANY DAY there should be a change of location for Mode O'Day women's apparel shop now at 1221 Grant Avenue, Novato, owned and operated for the past two years by Betty Homenko and Marie Crogh.

They have leased 1,900 square feet at 1417 Grant Avenue, in the Town and Country Shopping Center, and were hoping to get moved in by tomorrow. This gives them twice as much space —and they expect to stock it with twice as much merchandise in all lines.

THERE WILL BE an auction of unclaimed storage goods on Saturday, March 18, at the warehouses of Pierce-Hardin Van and Storage, Inc., 26 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, if the weather is clear. Time is set for 10 a.m.

This is Pierce-Hardin's first auction in several years, I believe, and it appears there is quite a variety of goods to be taken away by the highest bidder—including the usual number of cartons, boxes and other containers to be sold with the contents unknown. No use going there at this stage to inspect the assortment. Goods won't be taken out of storage until just before the sale.

C. M. VAN VLIERDEN of Sausalito has been elected senior vice president of Bank of America, with new responsibilities for coordinating international business development and credit activities. For the past five years he has been in charge of European activities. He joined the bank in 1952 after previous banking experience in Europe and Asia.

Van Vlierden

La Porte

VINCENT M. LA PORTE of San Rafael has been appointed credit administrator at San Francisco headquarters of Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc. He joined the company in 1947 and has served in both San Francisco and Portland offices. He is vice chairman of the food credit section of the Northern California Credit Managers Association.

A. G. SCHOONMAKER of Sausalito has received a $3,100,000 contract from the Sacramento Air Materiel Command at McClellan Air Force Base for 157 diesel generator sets and an additional $190,000 contract for the development of the Air Force's standard 200-kilowatt generator set. Combined with other commitments the company's total backlog of orders is now $24,352,000—200 per cent higher than in any previous period in the company's history.
